NEWS BRIEFS

Truax Predicts Scranton Nod

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Republican State Chairman Craig Truax predicted Friday that either Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton or former vice president Richard M. Nixon would win the GOP presidential nomination.

"It will be either of these two if Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona does not capture the nomination on the first ballot, and we don't think he has it," Truax told the annual Pennsylvania Press Conference here.

Rights Debate In 56th Day

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's civil rights debate consumed its 56th day Friday with one Southerner complaining that foes of the measure had to do most of the talking. Another said it is "no pleasure" to continue the long filibuster.

This twist came as the talk moved into a night session without fireworks and with only four of the 100 senators present.

Sen. John Sparkman D-Ala., was the one who complained that it is unfair for the opponents of the bill having to do most of the talking. But he added that he personally enjoys pointing out bad features of the complex measure.

K Big Success On Egypt Tour

CAIRO (AP) — Nearing the halfway mark of his 17-day state visit to strategic Egypt, Soviet Premier Khrushchev already has nailed down a resounding triumph.

Thus far, his personal success has cost him no more than a few medals, a little sleep and several rousing anticolonial speeches.

Red Koreans To Free Two

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The North Korean Communists said Saturday they will release two U.S. Army pilots held prisoner since their helicopter was forced down in Communist territory by gunfire a year ago Sunday.

Communist Secretary Col. Han Joo-kyung announced the impending release of Capt. Ben W. Stutts, 30, and Capt. Charleton W. Voltz, 26, at a meeting of the secretaries of the military armistice commission here.

Cuba Appeals To UN On CIA

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba charged Friday that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency is operating bases in Florida, Puerto Rico and Central America for attacks on Cuban territory and was sending over U2 reconnaissance planes to pinpoint the attacks.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa sent a note to Secretary-General U Thant made public Friday. It warned that peace might be endangered by Wednesday's raid on a Cuban sugar mill by Cuban exiles and by an arms cache found earlier off the Cuban coast.

Ike Tests All Negative

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Former Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was found to be in good health during his annual physical checkup, his office reported Friday.

All tests made Thursday at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D. C., were normal and Eisenhower was back at his desk here Friday.

Bishop Names Rights Group

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An 11-member Human Relations Commission was named Friday by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Philadelphia to promote both racial harmony and the ecumenical movement.

Stocks Advance Irregularly

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weathered some unsettling Wall Street news Friday and made its first advance in three sessions.

The advance was irregular. Most gains were small but a few selected issues made strides.

Volume swelled to 5.06 million shares from Thursday's abnormally low total of 4.75 million.

The Dow Jones industrial average gained 1.78 at 826.23.

AMENDMENT VIEWS—Dr. Daniel Poling, left, editor of Christian Herald magazine, talks with Prof. Paul Freund, center, of Harvard and Dr. Martin Marty, associate professor of the Chicago Theological Seminary, at meeting of the House Judiciary Committee. Poling told committee he favors a constitutional amendment to permit public school prayers. Freund said he did not. Marty was to testify later. (AP Wirephoto)

Thai Border Erupts In Red Laos Attack

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pro - Communist Pathet Lao troops have captured the rightist base at Tha Thom, 100 miles northeast of Vientiane, and posed a new threat to another rightist stronghold opposite the Thai border, the Defense Ministry announced Friday.

Western military sources said troops from Communist North Viet Nam joined the Pathet Lao in the successful attack Thursday on Tha Thom, held jointly by two right-wing battalions and a neutralist company. There were no reports on casualties.

It was the biggest pro-Communist success scored to date since an outbreak of Pathet Lao military action following the April 19 coup by right-wing generals in Vientiane.

It came on the heels of reports that a rightist force had suffered severe casualties as it retreated toward Tha Thom.

Phouma Consolidates

Right - wing and neutralists have merged in Vientiane under neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma since the coup, but efforts to get the Pathet Lao to return to the three-faction coalition regime have failed. The Pathet Lao insists leaders of the right-wing coup withdraw from Vientiane.

Western military sources expressed concern over reports that two neutralist companies joined the Pathet Lao in the attack on Tha Thom.

Neutralists have been defeating the Pathet Lao for some time in the northeast area, but no estimate was available in Vientiane of just how many troops were involved.

Tha Thom is on a road leading 40 miles south to Paksane, a rightist stronghold opposite the Thai border on the Mekong River. Rightists have been reported trying to push back the Pathet Lao in the area over the past month.

Attack Imminent

The Defense Ministry communique said a Pathet Lao attack was imminent against Sala Deue Dinh, a forward position of Paksane.

Western sources reported Thursday that a rightist force of 1,200 men had suffered 25 per cent casualties in pulling back toward Tha Thom after a raid into Pathet Lao territory. That appeared to be the worst rightist loss in any single operation in the entire Laotian civil war.

6 Sue Hoffa For Legal Fee Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six members of the Teamsters Union brought suit Friday for repayment by union President James R. Hoffa and 18 other top officers of all union funds spent in defending Hoffa against assorted criminal charges.

The group asked also for an injunction to prevent any further use of union money to meet Hoffa's legal bills.

The petition filed in U.S. District Court by members of Philadelphia Teamsters local made no attempt to estimate the money spent by the union in a series of trials but asked for an audit to determine the sum involved in Hoffa's three most recent trials.

No official union figures ever have been released on the sum spent in defending Hoffa but official estimates have ranged from several hundred thousand dollars to as much as a million dollars.

Hoffa Mum

There was no immediate comment from Hoffa, currently on trial in Chicago on charges of defrauding the union.

The six men long have been fighting Hoffa's rule in the 1.7-million member union and earlier this week a complaint from them started a Labor Department investigation of the use of union funds in Hoffa's trials.

The Labor Department can do nothing except report whether it concludes there has been any law violation and make public the sum involved.

In the past, Hoffa has insisted that actions against him actually were aimed at the union and his defense amounted to legitimate union business.

However, the union's general counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, recently advised the executive board that use of union funds in Hoffa's Chicago trial would be illegal—and he reportedly warned board members that they might be individually responsible for money spent illegally in defending Hoffa.

Hands Off $ $

Hoffa rejected Williams' conclusions but announced he would use no union funds in the Chicago trial pending expert outside legal opinion on the legality of such use.

Friday's action singled out for an accounting the Nashville, Tenn., trial in which a jury deadlocked on charges that Hoffa illegally accepted money from a trucking company; the Chattanooga, Tenn., trial in which Hoffa was convicted of jury tampering in the Nashville case and was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment; and the current Chicago trial.

Although specifying these trials, the complaint asked also for an accounting of all similar expenses against the union.

In bringing their action Friday, the rank-and-file members asserted the executive board has refused to halt the spending of union funds to defend Hoffa.

The men filing the suit are John C. Jones Sr., Jesse Coplo, Benjamin Burnham, Louis J. Buttone, L. V. Schafer and John Regan.

Viet Cong Attacks Reap Bloody Toll

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Communist Viet Cong laid a trap for government troops in traditional style and sprang it Thursday with unusual success.

The toll of that trap: 54 dead, 10 missing and 50 wounded, including an American Ranger officer.

"We make the same mistake all the time," a U. S. adviser said.

The Red guerrillas apparently started rigging the trap Wednesday night. First they dug firing positions in the greenery flanking the road about 22 miles north of Saigon.

Before dawn Thursday they staged a series of raids farther north, on the town of Tan Uyen, and four government outposts.

The aim of the raids, aside from inflicting local damage and casualties, was to get the defenders to radio Saigon to hurry in a relief column

In the ambush, the guerrillas manned heavy weapons and automatic rifles and waited.

Musmanno Slips Ahead Of Blatt

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Justice Michael A. Musmanno, after trailing for nearly three weeks, suddenly swung into a precarious lead Friday over Genevieve Blatt on the basis of recap returns from all 67 counties in their race for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator.

Musmanno's margin was 179 votes over the state secretary of internal affairs, first woman ever elected to statewide office in Pennsylvania.

This margin was arrived at this way:

—Complete official returns, including the absentee ballots, from 62 counties.

—The official vote, plus the unchallenged absentee ballots in Lackawanna County (about 450 ballots) and Washington County (29 ballots).

—The official absentee vote in Clearfield and Somerset counties, plus the unofficial count as reported in these counties after the April 28 primary.

—The unchallenged absentee totals in Philadelphia, plus the tally given by election officials after their count of all but the absentee ballots. There are more than 500 absentee ballot challenges in Philadelphia also.

Most of the absentee ballot challenges in Philadelphia, Washington and Lackawanna counties are by the Blatt forces.

Court Might Decide

It thus seems likely that court rulings on these absentees may determine who the Democrats send against incumbent Hugh Scott, Republican, next November.

Musmanno, backed by 65 of the 67 county chairmen and the state party organization, had trailed by 2,521 votes in the unofficial returns from all but three precincts with the absentee ballot tally still to come.

Under state law, county election boards must certify the official vote to the state by next Monday. However, court challenges can delay this, and the law provides no penalty for late reporting.

Oiljak Mfg. Co. Strike Settled

STROUDSBURG—The 15-day old Oiljak Manufacturing strike ended yesterday.

"The strike at Oiljak Manufacturing Company, Inc., of Stroudsburg is settled," reported Samuel Metzgar, staff representative of the United Steel Workers Union International.

"A three-year duration contract has been agree to, with a wage reopening clause at the end of the second year. Arrangements for recall of employees are being made. The company will notify employees when to report for work," Metzgar said.

Union employees of Oiljak, and members of United Steel Workers Union, Local 6209, went on strike Thursday, April 30, at midnight after their contract expired.

The employees said they were on strike for higher wages, changes in contract language, and for an expanded seniority clause. The strike affected about 65 men.

"Settlement was reached yesterday at 6:30 p. m., said Atty. Harry F. Lee, of Stroudsburg.

The new contract includes an hourly raise across the board —three cents for the first year and five cents in the second year. This increase will be added to the prevailing average hourly wage, which is $1.83.

Oiljak is pleased with and satisfied with the outcome of the contract terms, Lee said.

Rocky Briefed By State Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York received a special State Department briefing of nearly two hours Friday on the latest U.S. intelligence estimates of the world situation.

He said none of the information was startling or surprising, but was helpful in bringing him up to date.

Rockefeller told reporters he still stands on his criticism of the way the administration is handling the war in Viet Nam, and said the intelligence estimates did not change his opinion that the American people are "not getting the full story" on Viet Nam.

First Briefee

The governor was the first of the Republican presidential candidates to take advantage of President Johnson's offer of intelligence briefings. Johnson said he made the offer because "those who seek to discuss great public issues must be informed of those issues."

After being briefed by Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone, Rockefeller went to the White House at Johnson's invitation.

He said he thanked the President, and told him "it had been very helpful."

The State Department announced a briefing is scheduled next Thursday for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania. Scranton says he is not a candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, but would be available if drafted.

Barry Declines

Rockefeller's chief announced opponent for the nomination, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, declined the briefing offer. He said too much use has been made of security information, and suggested the briefings should be withheld until after the candidates are nominated, as in the past.

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon took a similar stand, but Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and Harold E. Stassen, both announced candidates, said they would like to receive briefings. No announcement has been made as to whether or when they will be briefed.

Stroud Bank Application 'In The Mill'

WASHINGTON (AP) —A Federal Home Loan Bank Board official said Friday final briefs have been received in connection with an application of First Savings & Loan Association, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., for authority to establish a branch in Stroud Township Stroudsburg.

A public hearing on the proposal was held by the board March 16.

The official said the case now "is in the mill" and that there is no indication when a decision will be reached.

Cuban Raids Reported

WASHINGTON (AP) — A report of a second and third thrust against Castro Cuba's coast developed here Friday against a background of Havana protests against Wednesday's blow at a Cuban sugar mill.

Quoting unidentified U.S. government sources, the Washington Star reported two anti-Castro Cuban exile organizations landed forces on the northern and southern shores of the island Friday morning.

The Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba, an exile organization based here, confirmed the landings but gave a somewhat different version.

It said the infiltrations were carried out Wednesday morning, rather than Friday, under cover of the diversion created by the attack on Port Pilon in Oriente Province, easternmost of the Cuban states.

No Havana Word

Havana did not confirm or comment on the reported new landings but a Cuban broadcast monitored in Miami indicated building tension in the Communist regime. The government communications network directed its radio operators to report for work Saturday — normally an off day for them — "on account of the present crisis."

The order added, "We must be broadcasting tomorrow with our guard up."

But while the Cuban government was silent on the reported new landings, it carried to the United Nations its protest against the Port Pilon raid which it has conceded brought the destruction of some 70,000 bags of sugar.

Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa in a note to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant charged that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency is directing attacks from bases in Florida, Puerto Rico and Central America. Roa told Thant that peace might be endangered by such activities.

Miss Blatt: 'Too Early To Tell'

HARRISBURG (AP) — Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs, contended Friday it is "too early to tell" how the race will turn out in her contest with Supreme Court Justice Michael A. Musmanno for the Democratic U. S. Senate nomination.

Miss Blatt noted that her backers already are contesting ballots in some counties, especially in Washington and Lackawanna.

"By no means am I giving up hope," she said.

WRA Cites Bensinger

WILMINGTON, Del. — Atty Charles R. Bensinger, of Stroudsburg, was cited yesterday by the Water Resources Assn. of the Delaware River Basin for his "brilliant leadership as president of the WRA/DRB from 1959 to 1964."

A resolution commending Bensinger was read at an association meeting in the DePont Country Club in Wilmington, Del. Bensinger dispelled rumors that he was planning to retire and agreed to stay on as president for another year.

Col. E. P. Yates, U. S. Army district engineer, told the association that efforts should be made to use land on flooded plains in ways that would take account of the flood danger.

Yates also made a progress report on the Tocks Island Dam. He said the $95 million dam will be about 160 feet high and 3,200 feet long.

Goldwater, Nixon Vie For 3rd Spot

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Underdog Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York swept to an amazing upset victory Friday in Oregon's Republican presidential primary.

By sheer personal, stick-to-it campaigning when all other contenders were absent, the New York governor topped five opponents to grab off Oregon's 18 convention nominating votes and keep alive his flickering hopes to head the GOP ticket this year.

In the process, Rockefeller shoved into the ash can the absentee candidacy of Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam. Lodge had surprised the politicians by winning New Hampshire's 14 votes in a write-in landslide in that state's primary in March.

But his long-distance appeal to Oregon's votes placed him second to Rockefeller and thus dimmed any likelihood that he would return from Saigon to attempt to win the nomination.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., the top collector of convention delegates at this point, was having a battle with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for third place in the Oregon balloting as returns mounted.

The count from 2,312 of the state's 3,251 polling places showed: Rockefeller 56,326, Lodge 46,746, Goldwater 31,830, Nixon 29,194, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith 4,829 and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton 2,692.

Oregon's Republican Gov. Mark Hatfield called Rockefeller's victory "the upset of the year."

William Walsh, Rockefeller's Oregon campaign manager, talked to the New York governor on the telephone, and told him it was "the biggest upset" he could remember.

Goldwater previously had told reporters in Los Angeles that it was impossible for him to win the Oregon vote because he had not spent the necessary time or money in the state to win. Goldwater canceled his speaking engagements in Oregon and crossed the state's 18 convention votes off a month ago when he found he was trailing in the polls.

The Arizona senator said he would be happy with a fourth-place position in Oregon. This would place him low on the totem pole except for two candidates who didn't campaign, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Me.

Berlin Wall Units Beginning Return

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) —The United States started on Friday withdrawing five Army combat units that were rushed to Europe in the Berlin wall crisis of 1961. Military sources said the government will require six or eight weeks.

Fifty soldiers made up the vanguard. They took off from the Rhein — Main base outside Frankfort for Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Of the 5,000 or so other men involved, most will return by ship. Their dependents, averaging about 300 per battalion, will be flown home.

President John F. Kennedy's administration moved 35,000 supply troops and about 5,100 combat soldiers to Germany shortly after the East German Communists started Aug. 13, 1961, to build the concrete barrier that since has divided Berlin.

Withdrawal

Withdrawal of the supply troops began a year later. It was completed several months ago. The U.S. Defense Department announced April 10 that the combat units would return home.

They are the 4th Battalion of the 68th Armored Regiment, which is first in line; three artillery battalions and a cavalry regiment. The armored battalion will embark about May 28.

They were attached to the U.S. 7th Army stationed in West Germany. Most are quartered in the area of Mannheim, 50 miles south of Frankfurt.

"They liked it in Germany but prefer being back in the United States," said Lt. Col. James F. McIntosh, 42, of Asheville, N.C.

Sgt. Clyde Blackwell, 27, of Greenboro, N.C., summed up his impressions this way:

"The wall is ugly. After I'd seen it, I knew why we'd come over. But I'm glad we are returning home now. Thirty-four months abroad is a long time.

Crowing Rooster Ends Up In Pot

SIPAN, Yugoslavia (AP)—Milka Cvjetkovic's kind heart finally got the best of her, and her antitourist rooster is no more.

This picturesque island near the big resort of Dubrovnik attracts tourists who like its quiet ways for a restful vacation. There are no hotels. The tourists take rooms in the homes of the islanders.

Right in the middle of it all lives Milka Cvjetkovic, who had the loudest crowing rooster in these parts. Islanders insisted the rooster started crofing earlier than any other rooster, and crowed louder than any other rooster.

Tourists staying nearby grumbled. Their hosts carried the protests to Milka Cvjetkovic without avail all through the last tourist season.

Refusals, Refusals

The town tourist association held a special meeting and sent an official delegation to Milka asking her to move the rooster to the outskirts of town. She refused.

A citizens' meeting voted to offer her three hens for the rooster. She refused.

Citizens had her brought before court on charges of disturbing the peace. She paid a $2 fine — and kept the rooster.

It serenaded the last tourists out of town at the end of the tourist season. And all brough the winter, islanders racked their brains for a solution. Just before this new tourist season opened, they found it.

Friends called on Milka with the sad news that Ivo Dolina, a Sipan islander, was desperately ill, he could eat only poultry—and had his poor heart set on Milka's fat rooster.

She yielded the rooster to this desperate appeal.

Dolina has recovered nicely from the influenza.

And tourism on this quiet island is recovering nicely, too.

Wall Street Financier Shoots Self

NEW YORK (AP) —The shotgun suicide of one of Wall Street's biggest stockbrokers remained a mystery Friday. To counter the shock to the financial world, his firm insisted that it is a sound and going concern.

Vernon C. Walston, 58, killed himself Thursday night in the headquarters of his brokerage firm, Walston & Co., Inc. at 74 Wall Street. He shot himself to death amid trophies he had collected during years of big-game hunting. No note was found.

His firm issued a statement which said in part:

"The untimely death of Mr. Walston will not affect the capital status of the corporation and it will continue to serve the public as previously. A senior officer of the firm has stated that the Walston family interests will remain actively involved in the business."

Walston's two sons, Carol and Jack, are vice presidents of the firm, which has nearly 100 branches and assets of $151 million.

Spokesmen for both the New York Stock Exchange and the federal Securities and Exchange Commission said there was no indication that the brokerage house was in any financial difficulties.

Alcohol in Today's Society ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Proverbs 23:29-35; Matthew 18:5-14; Romans 13:11-14:23.

Ancient writers were aware of the evils which could befall a man who indulged too heavily, too frequently in alcoholic beverages. The need for such warning is even more necessary today.—Proverbs 23:29-35.

Jesus warns of the punishment awaiting those who lead children astray, either by example or teaching. Children have His special protection, for they have qualities reflecting His own.—Matthew 18:5-14.

Paul outlines the life of a true believer, citing behavior which is unbecoming a Christian. If we fail to provide for fleshly lusts, he says, they will vanish from our thoughts and lives.—Romans 13:11-14.

We should not judge other believers in such matters as diet and holy day observance. Our faith identifies us with Christ and gains us God's kingdom.—Romans 14:1-23.

GOLDEN TEXT: Proverbs 20:1.

Today's Lesson:

Alcohol In Society

By H. H. Ramsey

Today's Golden Text provides an accurate summation of the seven verses from Proverbs assigned to this lesson.

Our text begins with the unconditional affirmation that nothing but woe, sorrow, contentions and "wounds without cause" await those who tarry long at the wine. All of us know of people who, when intoxicated, become quarrelsome, get involved in brawls and often wind up battered, bruised, sometimes robbed — none of which, they freely admit in sober moments, would have happened had they not been drinking.

The writer then presents other truths: that wine, when continually indulged in, bites as a snake, and what once seemed so attractive becomes bitter. The drinker is given to seeing strange visions and uttering strange words. Some people, enjoying the feeling of relaxation and conviviality that comes with drinking, indulge more heavily, more frequently, becoming, finally, what society terms an "alcoholic," a hollow hulk of a man, without friend or family, little hope and no future beyond the next drink.

In Daniel 1:8-16, we read how Daniel, then in his late teens, was captured and taken to Babylon. There he rejected the wine and sweetmeats the king offered him. Instead, he asked for, and got, the simple, healthful foods which the Lord had commanded the Jews to eat in earlier times.

Where did Daniel get his high ideals, his strong convictions about obeying the law of the Lord even in a foreign land with all its allurements and enticements? At home, from his parents, exactly where today's young people get their ideals, good or bad.

Matthew 18:5-14 contains our Lord's warning to adults against living in a manner that would cause "little ones," or children, to stumble. The penalties for causing a child to fall from grace are so dreadful, Jesus says, that it would be better for the errant adult to drawn in the sea.

There are literally hundreds of ways in which adults — expecially parents and teach*ers — can become guilty of* what Jesus is talking about. They can laugh at a child's deep religious convictions, make it impossible for children to attend Sunday School and church, teach children to drink intoxicating beverages, keep obscene books around the house, or have frequent guests whose language and-or moral behavior is coarse and repulsive.

Jesus keeps the little ones who believe in Him under His special consideration, for they *have qualities which are re*flections of Himself. And woe unto those who would ruin these souls!

In the paragraphs from *Romans 13 assigned to our les*son, Paul outlines the life of a true believer. We are told to cast off moral darkness and put on the "Armor" of divine grace. It is unbecoming a Christian, he warns, to indulge in nighttime revels, drunkenness, debauchery, quarrels and jealousy. And if we make no provision of fulfilling the lusts of the flesh, they soon perish from our thoughts.

The entire chapter of Romans 14 is Paul's exhoration against believers' judging one another regarding diet or days they wish to observe as religiously significant.

Parson To Parson

by Roderick MacLeod

AND THEN THERE IS THE ONE

The banquet season is again upon us. It seems that every one belonging to an organization is going to one or more of these testimonial dinners. Most *any excuse will do for an af*fair where people enjoy being bored by long winded speeches after their "tummies" have been filled to the saturation point.

It is the custom for a minister or priest to be in attendance to "give the invocation" and to further ask the Lord's blessing on the gathering.

We invoke, ask, plead or pray that His Holy Spirit be present with us as we partake of a feast and to oversee all the other activities that the festive occasion includes.

I wonder how our dearly beloved men of the "cloth" ever keep such slim figures. They should all look like "Friar Tuck" at the close of this spring.

The great moment arrives, the speeches begin. That is if they can ever get past the introductions! The master of ceremonies is forever saying—"And now, a man who needs no introduction, A man who — A man who — A man who —"

Half an hour of this is too much even for the most hardy banquet goer. The list of the speaker's qualifications is often longer than an A.K.C. pup registration form.

Some speakers are good, and a joy to hear. Others are not only egotistical pompus fools in love with the sound of their own voices, but are a disgrace to the affair.

Like some old time vaudeville trooper who knows that he does not have the talent to enter*tain many speakers,* resorts to frenzied patriotic flag waving routines.

Some so-called speakers think all the people at the dinner have the same warped mind that they have, and proceed to relate stories and jokes that are smutty, and often downright filthy in order to "warm up" the audience.

Now humor has a definite place and a good laugh is good for one's well being. There are very funny stories that do not have to depend on a lurid sex angle to be comic.

All thought of the invoking of God's Blessing has been erased by the first low type joke. Why should we tolerate this form of public speaking at any affair?

It is possible to have a good time and a lot of laughs well within the realm of decency. At the first sign of a speaker about to indulge in low humor why not embarrass him by stopping him before he gets started?

Surely it would be better than having at least half of the paid members embarrassed.

A banquet that is begun by prayer and ended in prayer should have nothing in between that would be an offense either to God, the people attending, or to good taste.

Methodist Church Comes Long Way

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Methodist Church, familiar to many only for its strict stand on alcohol and gambling, has come a long way since lay preachers carried its doctrines from England to the new world.

This, in the opinion of liberal and conservative, bishop, pastor and layman, was dramatically demonstrated by the recent two-week Methodist General conference.

Despite a slow start, there was a distinct feeling among the 900 delegates as the conference closed that they had squarely faced the major problem confronting the nation's second-largest Protestant denomination.

That problem was racial integration within the Church, how to accept it and keep the Church intact.

The Rev. Dean A. Richardson of Buffalo, N.Y., a leader of the liberals, declared at the start: "This conference obviously intends to do nothing on segregation." At the end he said: "This conference has made very real progress."

Looking back, Bishop Gerald Kennedy of Los Angeles, regarded as a spokesman for modern Methodism, said: "This General Conference intimated the whole Church was behind any man who is behind integration. This has never been stated as it was here. We have done the very best we could. The alternative was a split in the Church."

Dissent came from the Southern delegates, who felt the conference moved too far too fast.

"They have closed many doors," said Edd Gentry, a lay delegate from Jacksonville, Fla. "We came here with an open mind. We had no chip on our shoulder. Now we have to go back and start again."

The problem was simply stated. Delegates could either adopt or reject a plan to speed elimination of the Church's Central Jurisdiction.

The church has six Jurisdictions. Five are set up on a geographical basis. The sixth is the Central, established by a 1939 amendment to the Methodist constitution to represent all the Church's 375,000 Negro members. The amendment, opposed by Negroes, brought back into the Church its Southern members and healed a split that occurred in 1844 over a Bishop's owning slaves.

After long debate, the conference voted to eliminate the Central Jurisdiction.

Monroe County YOUTH For Christ
Film—"The Professor and The Prophets"
Wyckoff Recreation Center—N. 6th St., Stbg

GRAND OPENING — Diners relax and enjoy the sun yesterday at a new sidewalk cafe at the Penn-Stroud Hotel on Stroudsburg's Main St. The hotel was allowed to open the cafe after the Stroudsburg Borough Council recently amended an ordinance which banned the outdoor serving of food in any area not screened in. The amended ordinance allows a restaurant to serve food in the open if all sanitary conditions are met.

Katz Admits Telling Trueheart 'You Are Playing With Big Boys'

STROUDSBURG — Seymour Katz said yesterday he was acting on behalf of the owner of the American House Hotel when he told the embattled owner of the hotel's restaurant: "You are not fooling around with kids, you are playing with big boys now."

Katz is the brother of Edward Katz, president of Monatt Inc., the firm which owns the hotel.

He took the stand yesterday in Monroe Court to explain the part he played in Monatt's efforts to have Donald Trueheart removed as the operator of the restaurant.

The hearing is being held before President Judge Fred W. Davis to determine if Monatt should be granted an injunction restraining Trueheart from interferring with construction and remodeling work at the hotel.

Trueheart claims he was given an oral lease by Monatt to operate the restaurant.

Monatt denies this and claims it only reached a tentative agreement with Trueheart.

The proceedings were adjourned yesterday and will resume Friday, May 22, at 10 a.m.

Katz said under the probing of Trueheart's attorney, James R. Marsh, that he went to the hotel on April 21, when someone called the office of D. Katz and Sons and said there was trouble at the hotel.

When he arrived, he said Trueheart was "plunked down" in a restaurant booth and told Katz, "You'll have to move it (the booth) over my dead body."

He said he replied: "That can be arranged."

When he tried to move the booth to let the contractor's men enter the dining room to start remodeling work, Katz said Trueheart slipped to the floor.

As a result of the incident Trueheart had Katz arrested on assult and battery charges. Katz said since then he has filed counter charges of assault and battery against Trueheart.

Katz, who was on the stand for a total of five hours, said there is limited construction going on in portions of the new building that is to be occupied by the state Liquor Control Board.

He said part of the delay is caused by a delay of steel shipments. He also maintained it is almost impossible to finish the building without access to the hotel's dining room an area which Trueheart is refusing to allow workmen.

Marsh pointed out that a justice of the peace verdict allowing Monatt to evict Trueheart was based on Katz' testimony that Monatt had written leases with everyone.

Katz said the firm has leases with the U. S. Army, Monroe County and the state but did not have leases with people renting apartments in the hotel.

Marsh also asked Katz to number the justices of the peace one would pass on the way to the office of William E. Walker, Lake Valhalla justice — who entered the verdict in favor of Monatt.

Over the vigorous objections Olenick, Monatt's counsel, Marsh tried to link Walker with one of the members of the corporation.

Judge Davis sustained the objection.

Katz said a Daily Record story saying Monatt had a lease with Trueheart was incorrect.

Samuel Monatt, secretary-treasurer of the firm, said it was made clear to Trueheart from the beginning that he was being allowed to operate the restaurant on a trial basis.

Monatt said he told Trueheart the restaurant operation would be a losing proposition for six months.

Said if he had knowledge of Trueheart's efforts to buy the Snydersville diner he would never have talked to him about running the restaurant in the hotel.

During yesterday morning's session, Edward Katz testified Nathan Abeloff told him that he (Abeloff) returned a $2,000 down payment on the Enderly Diner in Snydersville to Trueheart because "he didn't want him there."

Pocono Jaycees Honor J. A. Marsh

STROUDSBURG — James R. Marsh, Monroe County district attorney, has been presented with the annual Distinguished Service Award by the Pocono Mountains Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Marsh was honored recently at a Jaycee installation banquet at Vacation Valley at Echo Lake.

William Johnson, a former Pocono Mountain Jaycee, was the guest speaker.

Atty. Edwin Krawitz, newly elected president, was among officers installed by Raymond Roberts, who was awarded lifetime Jaycee membership.

In accepting the award, Marsh said, "It is always a privilege to be honored by any segment of the community. My job as district attorney if a difficult one and no matter who wins a case I present I have a feeling of losing."

Johnson, who is currently assistant to the secretary to Gov. William Scranton, told the Jaycees that the militant approach civil rights groups are taking today is not the way to social equality.

Johnson explained the wide acceptance he received when he was Jaycee state president.

He said through quiet, sincere efforts made by various Jaycee groups he was accepted in hotels in places such as Atlanta, Ga. and Tulsa, Okla.

Krawitz was installed along with James Howley, internal vice president; Frank Buck, external vice president, Pa. Twardzig, treasurer, and Parker Finney, secretary.

Howard Coslett, acted as master of ceremonies.

Stroudsburg Fire Department will test its siren on Brown Street today at noon.

Fire Chief Nelson Lightner, last night said firemen would not participate in the test.

Peltier Voices Faith In Music Future Of Poconos

STROUDSBURG — Henry Peltier has a vision of a center for the musical arts in the Poconos.

Manager of the Philadelphia orchestra, he was named Wednesday as executive director of the Pocono Art Center, effective August 1.

"I decided to come here as director of the art center because I have complete faith in the plans for music in the Poconos.

"My first activity when I leave the Philadelphia orchestra will be to sell out the orchestra's concerts at Mt. Nebo Dell on August 11 and 12.

"We've been discussing the creation of a summer of music from the end of June through Labor Day. This leaves us with May and most of June to fill.

Student Programs

"There might be programs for students of the local elementary and high schools and college, beginning in May and extending into June.

"These would be held during the day — much as in the large cities — and buses could bring the students directly to the dell instead of the classroom.

"During the actual summer months, we envision ballet, opera, symphony, and other concerts and programs.

Area Target

"For me, it will be full-time work. We want an organization that will not only serve the Poconos, but Scranton, Allentown, and other surrounding towns as well.

"We could discuss what the college heads and educational groups would like to see.

"The educational programs would augment, rather than take the place of, music programs in the individual schools.

"A music center of the kind we foresee is just like bringing new industry into the region — a business which will export a million dollars worth of products.

"Also, the programs at the dell will give local people a cultural outlet.

"Last fall, I discussed such concerts with the Art Center, and I was most impressed with the far-sightedness of the center's executives. The ideas they came up with were based on fact and not just dreams.

Audience Here

"There is an audience here, and a desire to have the concerts; eventually, this area could become the greatest festival center in the U.S. It could surpass Tanglewood, and other similar festivals."

Peltier has a varied background in music, and has managed four other symphonies before coming to the Philadelphia Orchestra about one year ago.

He said that he will be spending much time in the Poconos after August 1, but that his wife Lois, his daughter Diane, 16, and his son David, 9, will follow later.

The Peltier's want to let their daughter finish high school, then they will look for housing in the area.

Heart Fund Drive Nets $8,165.50

STROUDSBURG — Marty Baldwin, chairman of the Monroe County Heart Fund Drive yesterday praised the cooperation of the community during the organization's successful drive.

Total contributions were $8,165.60.

This is broken down as follows:

Business, $411; counter hearts, $68.91; door to door, $4,716.46; federal service campaign, $230.63; industry, $223; memorials, $409.80; organizations, $205; resorts, $350; special events, $548.50, and special gifts, $1,002.30.

Baldwin said, "I wish to thank all workers and givers. It is with great pleasure that I say thanks to those in Monroe County who contributed to our 1964 Heart Fund Campaign.

"A very special thanks to all of our workers throughout the county, and to Dorothy Oliver and Ruth Maisner of our headquarters, as well as Fran Shinn, who worked so closely with me during the entire campaign."

Wisconsin Firm Aim Of Chamber

STROUDSBURG — The Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce revealed yeserday it is negotiating with the Wisconsin Door Co. over the prospects of the company building a plant in the Sroudsburg area.

Mongomery F. Crowe, president of the Pocono Mountains Industry, Inc. — the industrial development arm of the chamber — said the door company would employ 200 persons if the plant becomes a reality.

Crowe said PMI had expected the company to erect its own plant but now the firm wants the chamber to build a plant and enter into a five-year lease with the company.

John Dougherty, manager of the Stroudsburg office of Pennsylvania State Employment Service, said the majority of the workers the door company would require would be woodworkers.

He said enough local labor would be available to staff the majority of the proposed plant.

It was also reported at the board of directors meeting that the Weiler Brush Co. in Cresco will increase the size of its plant in the near future.

The brush company recently received a loan from the Pennsylvania Industrial Development Authority. The money will be used to finance the additions.

Alex Bensinger told the directors Camelback Ski Resort in Tannersville plans to expand its facilities. He said the minimum number of year-round employees at the resort will be approximately 20. During the ski season Camelback will employ 100 persons, according to Bensinger, a Camelback official.

Salvation Army Conclave Draws 550 At Tamiment

EAST STROUDSBURG — A total of 550 teen age youths from 45 communities in the Eastern Pennsylvania and Delaware Division of The Salvation Army will use facilities at Tamiment in the Poconos this weekend for Annual Youth Councils.

The theme for the sessions will be "I Dare to Believe".

Colonel and Mrs. Clyde Cox, Chief Secretaries from Territorial Headquarters in New York City will be special guests. Others who will attend include Major and Mrs. George Nelting, Territorial Youth Secretaries, Colonel and Mrs. Charles Mackenzie and Colonel and Mrs. William Bearchell, Divisional Commanders.

Captain Edward Fritz, Divisional Youth Secretary made the arrangements.

Major H. G. Baker, East Stroudsburg, and five other Corps officers served on the Committee making arrangements. Candidate and Mrs. James Shotzberger who will enter the Officers Training School from the local Corps will participate in the two day sessions. Nancy Baker, will serve as an A.D.C. to Colonel and Mrs. Cox and twenty youth from the local Corps will attend as delegates. The group will leave by bus from the Citadel at 8:45 a.m. today.

The full schedule of services will prevail at the local Corps throughout the day with Major and Mrs. Hartwell Fleming from Philadelphia Headquarters as guests and speakers at the Sunday evening service.

VFW Honors 4 Contest Winners

STROUDSBURG—Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, VFW, of Stroudsburg, Sunday will honor the four winners of the Voice of Democracy at a dinner in the post home.

Guest speaker at the dinner will be George Hartman, Department of Pennsylvania Commander of the VFW.

In addition to honoring the contest winners past commanders will also be recognized.

The contest winners are Terry Jean Hafford, first, of Carbon County; Patricia McAndrew, second, of Northampton; Mary Ann Ruddy, third, of Monroe County, and Ronald Shepard, fourth, of Pike County.

800 Hear Youngsters' Band Concert

SWIFTWATER—More than 800 persons packed the Pocono Mountain Joint High School last night to hear the third annual Elementary School Band Concert.

The program featured the 110-student orchestra from the joint system's four elementary schools. The orchestra was directed by Russel Speicher, elementary music supervisor.

The audience gave enthusiastic approval to such selections as "America," "Lovely Evening," "Red River Valley" and "Moving Up Day March."

Speicher said the concert is the culmination of the elementary system's year-long music program.

He said instruction is started in the fourth grade when students are tested on the fluteophone, a pre-band instrument.

At the end of the fourth grade all students are given a music aptitude test to determine which students should pursue music in the fifth and sixth grades.

When it is determined if a student should continue he is given 20 minutes of instruction each week by Speicher.

Davenport Also Pocono Director

STROUDSBURG — The name of Robert Davenport, vice president of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., was left off of a story listing the directors of the newly-established Pocono Farms, Inc. this week.

Davenport, along with five other men, is a principal figure in the 937-acre development north of Mt. Pocono.

Boy, 12, Gets $2,500 Settlement

STROUDSBURG — A $2,500 settlement for a minor was ordered by the Monroe County court yesterday after the minor plaintiff's guardian agreed to compromise the trespass suit.

The settlement was filed in the office of Frank Smith, Monroe County prothonotary, by Arlington Williams, attorney for Stephen R. Singer, 12, and his mother, Pauline Christman.

The Singer child now lives with his maternal grandmother, Hazel A. Adams, of 473 Willow St., East Stroudsburg. Pauline Christman is divorced and is soley responsible for the boy's support, according to the suit.

The action stems from an accident April 1, 1963, at 6:15 p.m., 3,700 feet east of the intersection of Chipperfield Drive and Rt. 611 in Stroudsburg.

Hazel Adams was driving an auto with the boy as a passenger when she ran off the right side of the road, the suit contended. He suffered a cerebral concussion, a laceration of the scalp, and an ankle fracture.

Medical expenses totalling $414.40 were paid by insurance. In addtition, the Christman woman asked $2,500 from Hazel Adams.

Rather than undergo court proceedings, the settlement was made, and the $2,500 was ordered placed in a bank as guardian of the boy's finances.

Johnson's Poverty Farm

"I do wish that Mrs. Johnson would fix the roof. This old house leaks bad."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cutler, oldest tenants on a 3,660-acre Alabama farm owned by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, made that complaint. But otherwise they like their unpainted shack where they have lived for 50 years and hope to die.

Two Republican Congressmen hunting for political ammunition to fire against President Johnson and his "unconditional war on poverty" found plenty of it on an Alabama farm inherited by Mrs. Johnson.

With broad political smiles, they urged the nation's chief warrior against poverty to put his own house in order before lecturing other Americans about helping their neighbors in poverty.

They found five shacks with leaking roofs, broken windows, cracks in the floor, no screens, broken stoves and no toilet facilities—standard housing conditions for millions of Americans who live in poverty, but more than a little embarrassing on a farm owned by the wife of the President of the United States.

One good point made by the two Republicans, which may be lost amidst the political horse laughs, is that much of the poverty and poor living conditions in America can be improved by private citizens, with their own money, on their own property and in their own backyards.

The two Republicans are opposing President Johnson's poverty program as members of the House Education and Labor Committee considering the bill.

They are correct in arguing that much can be done with private funds and initiative. But they are wrong in their further assumption that private effort can do the whole job.

It is the failure of private individuals, from Mrs. Johnson down to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cutler, to help themselves and their neighbors and tenants which opens the door for federal programs and funds to fight poverty in America.

The real poverty of Mr. and Mrs. Cutler is not so much their meager living or their leaking roof as it is their lack of education and knowledge of how much beter life in 20th Century America could be for them.

The callous lack of care and concern for Mr. and Mrs. Cutler shown by the Johnsons is not peculiar to them. It is typical of many American landlords and neighbors and relatives—many of us.

Bullet-Proof Confidence

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara came back from Communist-terrorized South Viet Nam Thursday and recommended more American men and material to help fight a war which will not end soon.

"This is a war for the confidence of the people and the security of those people, and that kind of war is a long, hard war," McNamara said.

He reported that Communist guerillas had stepped up their attacks against isolated villages and province, district and village leaders, cutting off some of their heads and using every terrorist tactic.

But what McNamara himself did in Saigon was a more revealing report on the progress of the war in South Viet Nam.

He wore a bullet-proof vest while riding in the streets of Saigon — the capital city where even he is not safe. This protection may have saved his life, but it lost face for the United States and the government of South Viet Nam.

If the Defense Secretary of the United States of America—mightiest nation in the world—cannot visit the government-held capital of Saigon without a bullet-prof vest, how can we expect the peasants living in villages exposed to constant Communist attack to have confidence in their government?

The war for the confidence and security of the people of South Viet Nam will indeed be a long, hard war.

Comment Of The Day

"We saw nothing here that could not easily be corrected by the Johnsons themselves, without a nickle of federal funds or a single federal program—if, of course, they really cared."

—U.S. Reps. David Martin of Nebraska and M. G. Snyder of Kentucky, Republican opponents of President Johnson's poverty program, describing poor sharecropper shacks on a Johnson farm in Alabama.

George Dixon

Johnson's Dance Tempo

By George Dixon

Washington — The secret of how President Johnson, at the age of 55, can dance with so many different ladies in one evening has just been whispered into my ear. Dance bands who perform for LBJ are given explicit commands never to play longer than 50 seconds at a stretch.

The President has personally laid down the time rules. Intermissions between dances are to last exactly four seconds.

If a bandleader lets a dance go longer than 50 seconds, and an intermission longer than four seconds, he gets a signal from the President. The signal is so adroitly executed it has never yet been intercepted by a guest, including the lady with whom LBJ might be dancing. It is always prearranged with the bandleader, and only he recognizes it.

Moreover — and this undoubtedly will produce anguished outeries — Mr. Johnson orders all bandleaders who play for him to lay off Texas songs. He has particularly outlawed such Lone Star numbers as "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You" and "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Orchestras are strictly enjoined against any of that handclap-clap-clap stuff keeping time to Texas music.

This has been a dead White House secret until now, although goodness knows how, what with reporters swarming all over the place. It has been kept locked in the breasts of the bandleaders who wield the baton there — Meyer Davis, Lester Lanin, and Devron.

Some of the most astute newspaper editors in the land were at a dance in the White House during the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors. So were their more astute wives. All of these 1,400 guests marveled at the many ladies LBJ worked into his dance schedule, but they never caught a 50-second or a four-second signal.

The White House reception for the editors was scheduled to break up at 7:30 p.m. At that time Devron's band broke into "Good Night, Ladies." But the President gave signals, and the get-the-hell-out-of-here number was played for another half hour — with, of course, the 50-second rounds and four-second rests.

According to unofficial estimates, LBJ added a score more to the number of feminine guests he took for a 50-second fling about the East Room after the band began "Good Night, Ladies."

You might think that, even with four-second intermissions, the President would have left danced out when the editors' ladies got the final goodnight. But —

Across Key Bridge in Virginia is the Marriott Motor Hotel, owned by J. Willard Marriott, one of our most militant Republicans. That same evening it was the scene of a dance for the lower echelon employes of the Budget Bureau, whose outings are influenced more by price than political partisanship.

This gala was definitely not on the President's schedule. But, at 11:15 p.m. he popped into the place — and began dancing.

He danced with typists, telephone girls, and female messengers. After whirling with a Budget beauty he thanked her, winning her devotion for life. On the way out he spotted an un-danced-with blonde looking at him wistfully.

The band was playing the President's entrance and exit number, "Hail to the Chief", but this didn't deter the Chief Executive. He grabbed the blonde and took her for a 50-second spin. Whoever she is, she should know that she is the only female in American history to have danced with the President of the United States to the strains of "Hail to the Chief."

Now for a final word about Presidents and the myths as to their favorite songs.

President Johnson feels that Texas songs nowadays may be overdone. Harry S. Truman never really liked "The Missouri Waltz." Although it was played for him everywhere he went, Franklin D. Roosevelt secretly detested "Home on the Range."

. . . And Now the Merry Month of May

Reporter's Notebook

By Frank Perretta
Daily Record News Editor

Once upon a time, novels had heroes.

Ernest Hemingway had his Robert Jordan.

Sinclair Lewis had his Sam Dodsworth.

Boris Pasternak had his Dr. Zhivago.

But some novels have non-heroes.

Albert Camus has his meursault in "The Stranger."

Franz Kafka has his Joseph K in "The Trial."

The non-hero does not beat his chests. He's actually an outgrowth of the Danish religious thinker Soren Kirkegaard, the principal source of contemporary existentialist philosophy whether religious or irreligious.

Kirkegaard introduced man to the theory of the absurd.

Pathetic Characters

The non - characters are pathetic. They're colorless, shallow, unreal, detached, indifferent to anything more than physical pleasure. Some of them are so sick, sick that they can justify suicide, if Camus is writing the piece.

But we're not getting involved in the merits of asburdity of the theory of the absurd.

We're just stealing one of their terms.

In literature there is the hero and the non-hero.

Non-Candidate

In today's race for the presidency there is the candidate and the non-candidate.

Let's look at the sole candidate on the Democratic side of the ledger.

He is a tall Texan, who flies in a helicopter, lands on the barren pasture of a poverty-stricken southern farm, bounds across the parched field waving a ten - gallon hat saying, "Hi'ya, I'm President Johnson."

The Democrats do have a candidate.

Johnson's Many Voices

He's a businessman when speaking to the National Chamber of Commerce. He's a card - carrying union man when he rants and raves to the UAW. He's a moralist when he spouts bible-quotations to Southern Baptists. He's a rancher when beef prices come up. He's a farmer when talking to the co-ops.

The Democrats sure have a candidate but he wants to make it official at the Atlantic City convention, August 24.

What'll he be like, after he makes it official?

The GOP has candidates too.

Barry Running Hard

Barry Goldwater is in there pitching a mile a minute. . . much to the dismay of some of his backers. Some supporters feel that Barry ought to become a non - candidate and then maybe he'd have a chance to win the Republican nod.

They contend a Barry with both feet strongly planted on the ground instead of in his mouth may lure more GOP votes.

Reluctant Scranton

Which brings us back to the concept of the non-candidate.

Gov. Scranton is a non-candidate. He says so with such remarkable repetition. But the governor hasn't slammed the door shut. Once a week, he tells newsmen that he would respond to a "honest and sincere draft."

Former Vice President Richard Nixon is a non-candidate. All he wants to do is "help any way he can." So he takes a trip to the Far East, blasts American foreign policy in Japan and manages to visit Viet Nam, where he is photographed with his old running mate, Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The aging, good - looking ambassador - in a Democratic administration — has remained deaf and dumb to questions on issues facing America today.

He is almost apolitical.

Silent Lodge

He contends he must remain silent because of his post as ambassador. When asked what his political aspirations are — he's the darling of the pollsters — the ambassador playfully sticks his fingers in his ear - - once the cameramen are ready - - and says he won't discuss politics while he's an ambassador in Viet Nam.

What a non-candidate. . .he's the greatest.

Before we sign off, in all fairness, we must acknowledge that the governor of New York — one Nelson Rockefeller — is running for the Republican nomination.

If we could change one word in the title of Bud Shulberg's best - seller, we'd come up with "What Makes Rocky Run."

That's enough said.

So.

Existentialists who hold to the theory of the absurd admit they have non-heroes.

But do you think we could get the non-candidates to admit they are absured?

Dear Abby

Never Let It Be Said

By Abigail Van Buren

Dear Abby: You burn me up! Why do you always take the man's side when wives complain that their retired husbands won't leave them alone? You are greatly in the dark about the habits of retired husbands and how exasperating they can be. Why do you always go to bat for the man? I hope your husband retires and objects to your pecking away at the typewriter; that you never have a minute you can call your own, and that he will be underfoot every step you take. The retired husband who does absolutely nothing can drive his wife crazy. That is my problem. My husband won't let me out of his sight. If I am gone for twenty minutes, he comes looking for me. I am a wreck from my husband's retirement. Men who retire should not bury themselves alive and expect their wives to inhabit the grave with them. Every woman needs a little aloneness. Why not give these lounge monarchs a little advice, too?

RETIRED MAN'S WIFE

Dear Wife: So frequently have I advised retired men to volunteer their services to a worthwhile charity, to interest themselves in church work, civic affairs, politics, gardening, sports, and to make a few friends of their own so they won't be under their wives' feet from sunup 'til sundown, that I fear I have begun to sound like a broken record.

• • •

Dear Abby: I have always regretted not getting a college diploma. I started in the university, but I quit in my freshman year. I am now 33 years old, and I figured out that if I take courses three evenings a week it will take me eight years to get my diploma. And in eight years I will be 41 years old. Should I?

WANTS A DIPLOMA

Dear Wants: And how old will you be in eight years if you DON'T take the courses?

• • •

Dear Abby: Last week someone poisoned our dog, and if a member of our family had died I don't think I could have felt worse. Our poor dog suffered for days, and we spent a lot of money on vets and buying him pills, only to lose him in the end. I held that sick dog in my arms when he died, and it about tore my heart out to see the pain and agony in his eyes. Why, oh, why do people poison pets, Abby? I think a pet poisoner should be tried for murder.

A DAILY READER

Dear Reader: Poisoning a pet, anybody's pet, for whatever reason, is inhumane and inexcusable. But dog owners contribute to the innocent delinquency of their pets when they let them make nuisances of themselves — and prey to the poisoner.

• • •

Dear Abby: I go with a widow. She is past 60 and so am I. I enjoy her company, but she has a terrible habit. When I take her out to dinner, she opens up her handbag and dumps in all the bread, rolls, crackers and biscuits on the table. She says she will enjoy them for breakfast, and since I am paying for the food served to us, she is entitled to them. I get very much annoyed and have been tempted to walk out and leave her sitting there. Please print this and tell her that nice people don't do things like that in nice restaurants. Thanks.

B. K.

Dear B. K.: Warn her once more, and if she doesn't quit, look for someone who is better-bred.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Have you any suggestions for getting our son to date a certain girl? This girl is charming, intelligent, has a wonderful personality, and would be an ideal match for our son. He is 25, but he seems to prefer the more glamorous, flirty type. We know that once he gets to know this girl, he would appreciate her fine qualities.

PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: I can't tell you how to get your son to date a certain girl, but I can tell you how to sour him on her before he even sees her. Just keep telling him how "good" she would be for him! Your best move would be to arrange for them to meet "accidentally." And let him "discover" her for himself.

• • •

Confidential to "Wish I didn't know" in Philadelphia: I urge you to tell her mother. If she were YOUR daughter, wouldn't you want to know?

Hoover, Pro and Con; Cats; Bitten Child; Rooney Criticized

Editor Offered Red Star For Hoover Criticism

Editor, The Daily Record:

Whoever wrote the editorial about J. Edgar Hoover's weakness on May 12, 1964, must be congratulated. One could even wish the writer had the job — the saving of taxpayers' money would be fabulous.

That fellow sitting around here knows everything — with*out agents, open or secret,* without anything to buy, or pay for, to maintain and remunerate, to train or plan, and, of course, he is so right by the dint of his dictum.

This our man is a mental giant in comparison to that puny Hoover. Our man just uses his head, and Hoover uses others, and even then comes up with nothing but "despicable scare tactic" — in the past, and now, and, you bet your life, in the future too.

But that Hoover is not going to ruin these US of America, since we have such brilliant, and omniscient editorial writers. A medal to him! And a red star, maybe, too.

JOHN COLLINS

Editorial Criticism Of Hoover Called 'Long Time Overdue'

Editor, The Daily Record:

I would like to congratulate the Daily Record for its editorial on Wednesday entitled "J. Edgar Hoover's Weakness".

This article has been a long time overdue.

I am glad to see your paper take an affirmative stand when it sees something going contrary to the American way of life.

For many years Mr. Hoover has been played up as a god with no weaknesses. The reactionary right and the militarists have long regarded him as their patron saint.

Any criticism of him was considered blasphemy.

I am glad to see however that the working press in Washington has long understood him and have considered him more of a "character" and have not regarded him seriously.

Mr. Hoover can best serve his country now by stepping down and let a younger clearer headed person take over the reins of the FBI.

Forty years in the same job is too long. Mr. Hoover claims that there are Communists in the civil rights movement.

If such is the case why don't he name names and expose these people he claims exist. I think that it is time for a new head for the FBI.

One who would not say that every step in the right direction is "subversive".

Congratulations again for your courageous article and I hope that more newspapers across the country will take up the example set by your paper. Exposing the real threats to individual freedom is the greatest service any newspaper can give.

Cat Saved on Borough Bridge While Lady Jammed Traffic

Editor, The Daily Record:

I would like to those people who were glaring at me and maybe cussing me out know that while I had traffic tied up for a few minutes on the inter-borough bridge Thursday afternoon (May 7) while I picked up an injured animal that someone had struck and left lying there, that the large black cat they saw me pick up was very much alive.

I don't know who struck it or how many cars passed by and straddled it before I came along, but I saw it raise its head and I promptly called the SPCA.

But Mr. Niper was out on another call so I went back and picked it up myself and took it to a veterinarian and this morning I called and he informed me he thought the cat would be all right.

Now it makes me angry with whoever hit that animal that he didn't come back to see if it were still alive and call the SPCA. Oh, I can just hear someone say it was only a cat and it had no business there.

Well, true it was a cat with feeling and suffers as any injured flesh suffers when it is hurt, and a cat cannot read a sign, even if there were one, that says "positively no animals allowed."

This cat was obviously someone's pet, perhaps a child who was heartbroken when it didn't return.

Please, citizens, have a little more respect for life whether it be human, wild or domestic animal, or fowl.

ANAMAE S. MILLER

Rooney Criticism Applauded

Editor, The Daily Record:

Congressman Rooney's constituents owe a debt of gratitude to Mr. Blanchard Michael.

His letter to the Record helped pinpoint what the Record — with a peculiar sense of semantics — editorializes about his statement concerning 100 lives having been lost in the 1955 flood as "misrepresenting the facts for dramatic emphasis."

Since the "drama" was performed before a Congressional subcommittee with the object of obtaining funds to drown about 200 square miles of the Delaware Valley, the "drama" was not tragicomic.

It would be interesting to know how a court of law might consider Mr. Rooney's "misrepresenting the facts."

In view of the current national administration's concern with poverty, perhaps the Congressional pro dammers might wish to explain their attempt to drive so many valley businessmen and farmers into actual or prospective poverty.

In my opinion, the Record — on its record — seems to be not for the people of the valley; it seems to be against them.

Misrepresentation for dramatic emphasis!

Parents Thank Friends, Doctors For Bitten Child

Editor, The Daily Record:

My wife and I wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone for their concern and help during our son, Seth's recent accident.

Relatives, friends and people we hardly know were wonderful. The cards, flowers, gifts and personal inquiries about Seth made Grayce and I feel even prouder to be natives of Monroe County and the Poconos.

We are especially grateful to the entire staff of the Monroe County General Hospital, and the nurses and staff of the children's ward in particular.

We thank God for the talents of Dr. James Fahl, and our thanks to Dr. Hans Brehm and Dr. Dracos — the Poconos are indeed fortunate to have doctors of this caliber and dedication.

Grayce and I are very happy to report that Seth is doing fine — and once again we say "THANK YOU".

Poet's Corner

LAND OF THE FREE

Some say the America of today
Is not the land of yore,
That ugly sands of discontent
Lie, washed on every shore.

'Tis said the racial problem
Now 'twixt black and white,
Beclouds our nation's honor
In our foreign brothers' sight.

Drats! to those brazen Nazis
Who shout from avenues,
That to protect our future
We should persecute the Jews.

The Bible and prayer are banned
From schools in our free land,
Court ruled a student's school day
Must be void of Godly stand.

There're other seeds of malice
Budding in young minds today,
Implanted there by elders
Who're biased in selfish way.

Let us rally round our freedom
'Fore the hour grows too late,
And practice real brotherhood
Or hate may close the gate!

JOHN A. RINKER

Refreshing Spring

In spring the dreary winter
Seems to vanish into cheer,
The budding tree, the golden bush,
O'ercomes each dormant bier.

And birds return for summer
From their haven in the South,
To join those hardy brothers
Who've endured long winter's bout.

A welcome springtime shower
Bestirs the inert ground,
As if by magic grass appears
The key to new growth found.

A garden holds the answer
To our pent-up winter zeal,
When we watch the tiny hidden seed
Mature for fruitful meal.

Spring is birth and living growth
Of nature's latent force,
And innate urge to waken from
Lethargic winter's course.

JOHN A. RINKER.

Markin Time

One Sunday morn, he was surprised,
In church and standing in his place,
When all at once he realized
His son was tall and singing bass.

Bushkill Fire Drills Wednesdays

BUSHKILL — The Bushkill Volunteer Fire Co. will hold drills the first Wednesday of each month, according to Carl VanWhy, chief engineer.

At a recent meeting in the fire house, Barry Minter was elected vice president to fill the unexpired term of Robert Tulenko.

John Rohner was appointed chairman of the membership committee and Frank Messerle was named refreshment committee chairman. His committee will operate the concessions at the hill climb, May 16 and 17.

Lawrence Dickison, fire chief, reported the volunteers responded to two grass fire alarms during the past month.

It was reported that stickers bearing the telephone number of the fire company have been mailed to Bushkill residents.

Koehlers To Host '64 Class

EAST STROUDSBURG — The graduating class of 1964 will be honored guests during a reception and dinner being held by President and Mrs. LeRoy J. Koehler in cooperation with the members of the East Stroudsburg State College Board of Trustees Sunday.

Scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. in the home of the president, the guests will be received by trustees of the college and Dr. and Mrs. Koehler.

Invited as guests in addition to the seniors are members of the administrative staff; foreign students and professors who have been on campus during the past academic year.

Dinner, hosted by the Board of Trustees and Dr. and Mrs. Koehler, will be served at 6 p.m. in the college dining hall. Seniors, faculty members and administrative personnel will be in attendance.

Following the dinner, reflections on the academic year as well as living in America, will be presented by Prof. William G. Hope- a visiting professor from France; Miss Toshiko Yamashita, an exchange student from Japan; and by Mr. Anders Andersen, an exchange student from Norway.

Miss Genevieve Zimbar, adviser to the Class of 1964, will introduce the class president-John Ferguson. Introducing the Board of Trustees and the visiting dignitaries will be the college president - Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler. Dr. Koehler has also been asked to present an informal talk to the students who are graduating within the week.

Just Between Us — —

—By Bobby Westbrook

After keeping my nose pretty well buried in my notes since I came home, it was sort of exciting seeing something live, especially when it was the Stroud Community Woman's Club tenth anniversary party. The only problem about all the bouquets they were handing out was that the recipients found it a little difficult to get up after that dinner.

Esther Musselman and Elva Clugston had to pop up quite a few times for well - deserved honors, expecially for those ceramic flower holders they'd decorated and fired themselves. And by this time Kathryn Hannas was right in the installation of officers swing as county president.

Lois Payne looked a little surprised to be drafted to assist, but after two years as county president her part came naturally, too. At least she wasn't worrying right then about where they're going to move in June.

In fact, nobody was worying about anything. Neither was I yesterday morning, the utter peace of the river was broken by an unholy clatter that sounded like at least a battleship coming up the Delaware. I rushed out and here was this dragon fly, enlarged about a million times, with red eyes whirring away over the river.

It took a minute to realize it was a helicopter hovering over the water scattering spray like rain and echoing like thunder from bank to bank. What it was doing besides scaring the fish and me, I can't imagine.

One happy result for me was to discover that Lee and Sue Bossler and the baby have moved in next door, since they also came rushing out to investigate. Not the baby, though. The only time he wakes up is when he's hungry — and that dimple in his chin is from his great grandfather. Things are really looking up.

Bride-to-Be Welcomed At Bridal Shower

Stroudsburg — A bridal shower and get-acquainted party were combined for Miss Christene Cartwright of El Paso, Texas, who will become the bride of George Kresge on Saturday, May 16. The party was given by Mrs. Alfred Kresge and her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Bentzoni at 112 South Eighth St.

The rooms were decorated in white and pink with a pink and white umbrella over the gift table under a canopy of pink and white streamers and a white bell. The arch was also trimmed with white bells and streamers.

Prizes for games went to Hedi Pfaffinger, Christene Cartwright, Naomi Learn, and Katrina Kresge.

Refreshments featured cake, homemade ice cream and a special four-tier cake baked by Mrs. Bentzoni.

Guests were Mrs. Ann Kresge, Mrs. Hedi Pfaffinger, Mrs. Marion Peechatka, Mrs. Dorothy Kresge, Mrs. Matilda Kresge, Mrs. Joyce Pope, Mrs. Elvene Kresge, Mrs. Naomi Learn, Mrs. Reta Shultz, Miss Katrina Kresge, Earl Learn, Lowell Kresge, Philip Pope, Malinda Kresge, Debbie Bentzoni.

Unable to attend were Miss Lois Shellenberger and Miss Peggy Biggs of Lansdowne; Mrs. Helen Jackson of Collegeville; Mrs. Mary Kresge of Bangor and Mrs. Stanley Kresge of Stroudsburg RD 5.

Pocono Mt. Council, GOP, Tuesday Night

Sharbaugh Pines — The May meeting of the Pocono Mountain Republican Women's Council will be held on Tuesday at Sharbaugh Pines on Route 611 above Mount Pocono. Mrs. Joseph M. Shukaitis, a delegate to the national Republican Women's Convention in Washinton, D.C. will report on the convention.

New Hospital Wing Sparks New Services

East Stroudsburg — A comparison of the demands on the General Hospital of Monroe County in 1952 when the then "new" building was put in operation and the present were presented by Charles Swisher, assistant superintendent, at the meeting of the General Hospital Aux. this week.

The new wing, he said, will be in operation on or about Aug. 1, increasing the patient capacity to 184. With the new wing there will be an expansion of present services and addition of new services, he said. A question period followed his talk.

The meeting held at the Adolph Rake home, Milford Road, was very well attended. Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Ralph Thomas were welcomed as new members and Mrs. Harry Crouse as a guest.

Mrs. William Gorman, president, announced that a few seats still remain for the bus trip to the World's Fair on May 20, sponsored by the auxiliary. Mrs. Harold Lanterman gave the report of the nominating committee for officers to be elected in June.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Hanson, hostess; Mrs. Harold Lanterman, Mrs. Harold Kresge, Mrs. P. K. Emmons and Mrs. Carroll All. Mrs. All presided at the tea table.

The next meeting will be held June 2 at the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

Miss Marsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marsh, 844 Thomas St., Stroudsburg, received the obstetrical nursing award.

Miss Rita Fenwick, acting director of nursing, presented the students to Charles H. Frazier, chairman of the PGH board of trustees, who awarded the diplomas.

Elementary Music PTA Theme Mon.

Tobyhanna — Music in the Education of the Elementary Student" will be the topic at the final meeting of the Coolbaugh Elementary Center Parent-Teachers Assn. on Monday night at 8.

Russell Speicher, music teacher in the elementary grades of the school district, will be the speaker. There will also be a demonstration by members of the band.

Mother-of-Year Is Named For The West End

Saylorsburg — Mrs. Emma Altemose of Saylorsburg was named West End Mother of the Year at the Mother's Day Luncheon sponsored by Hunsicker Bros. Furniture, Brodheadsville. Donald Hunsicker served as toastmaster.

Corsages were presented to each guest at the party held on May 9 in the West End Firehall. Rev. David Fife gave the invocation.

Familiar songs with J. Russell Custard as organist was followed by a full course roast turkey dinner. The three Mother's Day cakes were decorated as spring hats. The dinner was prepared by women of the West End.

Mrs. Altemose, selected as honor mother because of her devotion to her family and to neighbors in time of need, was presented a jeweled crown and royal purple cake, to receive an armful of red roses, a plaque and several gifts.

Oldest mother award went to Mrs. Clara Saylor, 89, of Saylorsburg, who received a plaque and an orchid. For the third consecutive year Mrs. Victor Hoffman, Brodheadsville, with a family of 16 children won that award.

Mrs. Ruth Haak of Middletown, N.Y., came the longest distance to attend the luncheon with her mother, Mrs. Alvin Dreisbach of Kresgeville.

Mrs. Jean Steele, hair stylist, spoke on "Hair Care and Styling in the Advancing Years". Dr. Thomas Snyder spoke on "Your Daily Diet and Your Health". Rev. Carl Romoser spoke on the theme "What is a Mother?".

Music Club Shows Off For Officer

Stroudsburg — A surprise visit from Mrs. E. W. Holden, vice president in charge of the Philadelphia region, Pennsylvania Federation of Music Clubs found the Music Study Clubs of the Stroudsburgs prepared.

Election of officers marked the business meeting, and a program on Franz Schubert featured a film strip and illustrative music at the Zion United Church of Christ, Stroudsburg, this week.

Mrs. Raymond Herman was re-elected president; Mrs. James Toner, first vice president; Mrs. Paul Cramer, second vice president; Mrs. Joseph Barnes, secretary; Mrs. William Davis, treasurer.

Mrs. Floyd Cyphers, program chairman, presented a study of the life and music of Schubert and a film strip furnished by the Encyclopedia Brittanica.

Illustrating his music were Mrs. Clarence Transue, vocal, "Gretchen at the Spinning Wheel" and "Hark, Hark the Lark"; Mrs. James Toner, vocal, "Die Earl Koenig"; Mrs. Richard Davis, "Who is Sylvia?"; and Mrs. Vernon Imbt sang "By the Sea". Mrs. Lucy Quig was accompanist.

Organ solos were given by Mrs. Herman; "Impromptu", the first movement of the "Unfinished Symphony" and "Serenade"; and by Mrs. Cyphers, "Ave Maria".

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Cramer while Mrs. Holden spoke of the regional assembly to be held in Stroudsburg in October to be attended by officers of the Pennsylvania State Federation.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

What a day this has been! (Thursday, I mean.) To begin with, everyone in our store who is "in on it" is all steamed up about the magic numbers "1050". If Holt Wyckoff sees Dick Kishpaugh, one of his brothers, or me, he is almost certain to startle innocent bystanders by demanding, "What is the magic number?" Woe betide the fellow who answers, "I haven't the slightest idea," and woe betide me if I yield to my mad impulse to say, "Forty-four forty or fight".

That group of four numbers is so darned important, Holt even had a discussion in his ofice the other day on the subject of which sounds more important: ten fifty . . . one thousand and fifty or ten hundred and fifty. Most of us agreed that "ten fifty" is certainly the easiest, quickest and most attractive to say, and probably the most ear catching. But ten hundred and fifty sounds far more impressive than one thousand and fifty. Ten always seems like more than one, even if the ten pertains to hundreds and the one to thousands.

Oh, there's never a dull moment at Wyckoff's . . . we do haggle and gaggle over the smallest things, because when it comes right down to it, the small things are usually not small anyway. They are mighty important. (From this moment on, you may refer to me as Dr. Joyce Brothers!)

In the meantime, maybe you are wondering what "ten fifty" means. It could be the price tag on a ladies' dress or a man's sweater . . . but it isn't. It could refer to time—ten minutes of eleven . . . but it doesn't. It could be the partial measurements of the fat lady in Ringling Brothers circus . . . but I doubt it. As a matter of fact, ten fifty is . . . something I daren't tell you until next week, but something all women will wish to hear about. Just remember it . . . and keep your ears open! THURSDAY is the beginning of three nifty TEN FIFTY days at Wyckoff's, and if you don't rush down bright and early to be first in line at our Keystone Room, I'll be really disappointed in you.

* * *

My daughter was reading an article on education the other evening and asked me if I'd ever heard of Dropsie College. I never had, but I'm sure I must have some sort of a degree from there. It's really embarrassing the way I've been dropping things right and left lately, and startling everyone with resounding crashes.

The other day in the most solemn part of a religious service, my purse toppled to the floor frightening all around me. This afternoon, when Claude Miller and I traveled to Bushkill to show a film, "Britain is a Garden" to the members of the Bushkill Garden Club, I dropped my coffee, spoon onto a chair and thence to the floor at the very moment the members were voting upon an important motion and the president had said, "Opposed?" Claude was wild at me, being fearful everyone would think he was the culprit.

I always enjoy visiting the Bushkill Garden Club. Not only are the members friendly, pleasant and familiar from years back, but they do serve the best refreshments! I presented the president, Mrs. Argus Miller, with the 5.00 check "Papa" Wyckoff felt all organizzations participating in our recent Table of the Month exhibit should receive . . . so maybe they'll forgive me for being such a noisy guest.

* * *

Speaking of garden clubs, flowers, and such, I have just been officially notified that it is no longer chic to refer to artificial flowers as artificial. They are "permanent" flowers. Which is wonderful . . . but it still doesn't make 'em real, does it??????

100 Join Anniversary Celebration

Mountainhome — Gold and white streamers and wedding bells decorated Vogt's Tavern, Mountainhome, for the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt of Cresco on April 25.

Hosts for the dinner and buffet which followed were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Vogt, Sr. A fourtier cake decorated in white frosting and gold leaves was surmounted by gold numeral 50 and surrounded by lillies of the valley, Gladiolus and chrysanthemums in gold carried out the theme.

M. and Mrs. Vogt were married on April 25, 1914, by the Rev. W. Stansfield at the Vogt Homestead at Buck Hill Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vogt, Sr., were honor attendants. Rev. William Cusick officiated at the reaffirmation of wedding vows six years ago in St. Mary of the Mount Roman Catholic Church, Mount Pocono. The couple's son and daughter, George, Jr., and Margaret Vogt Yankowski, were attendants.

Mrs. Vogt is the former Elsie Smith, born in Cresco to the late Charles and Louise Englert Smith. Mr. Vogt is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Vogt of Buck Hill Falls.

Their son, George, and his wife, Catherine, attended the dinner with grandson, Ronald. Mr. and Mrs. James Yankowski and sons, James, Jr., and Donald, of Cromwell, Conn., were also present. Special guest was Msgr. C. A. McHugh.

Mrs. Vogt was attired in a blue dress shot with gold threads and received a corsage of yellow rosebuds. She wore gold accessories. A matching yellow rosebud boutonniere was presented to Mr. Vogt.

More than 100 attended the buffet and dance following the formal dinner. The "Poconians" with Skinny Edinger provided music for dancing.

Rhubarb Is Right; So Now Is Time To Capture Its Special Spring Tang

By Linda Pipher
Daily Record Home Economist

Stroudsburg — Chances are that if you look back on your school days you can remember at least one subject that gave you trouble, one that took more drilling to pound the material through your head. With me, it was biology. I could memorize long passages from Shakespeare or remember dates from a couple of centuries ago, but when it came to distinguishing a beech leaf and an elm leaf, I was lost.

There were always tricky things to confuse me, as tomato is a fruit but we eat it as a vegetable. Or that rhubarb is a vegetable but we eat it as a fruit. And then when I would have to look up nutritional values, I couldn't remember the classifications. But I do remember that rhubard provides us with calcium, Vitamins A and C. At least I remember that!

Centuries ago rhubarb was used for medicinal purposes; now we enjoy the distinctive flavor in puddings, pies, or stewed. As it is very tart, quite a bit of sugar must be added for sweetening, and just a tiny bit of water added to the saucepan when cooking, for it is a very juicy fruit (vegetable, pardon me).

I made a good rhubard pie this week, so good that Bill said it tasted just like Mother's—the highest compliment you can receive, you know. Even Billy had to admit it was good, and he never liked the flavor of rhubarb.

Honey Rhubarb Pie

4 cups rhubard, cut in ½ inch pieces
1¼ cups sugar
6 tablespoons flour
¾ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup honey
4 to 5 drops food coloring
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

Combine rhubarb, sugar, flour and salt. Mix well and then blend in honey, food coloring, and lemon rind. Let stand while making pastry for a nine inch pie. Line pie pan with pastry, pour in rhubarb mixture, top with pastry, and flute edges. Prick center of pastry with fork to allow steam to escape. Bake in a preheated 450 degree oven for ten minutes; reduce temperature to 350 degrees and bake another 40 to 45 minutes until crust is browned.

Now is the time to freeze rhubarb, before the stalks get too big and tough. Find space in your freezer, rhubarb can be canned.

Freezing Rhubarb

Choose firm, tender, well colored stalks with good flavor. Wash, trim, and cut into 1 or 2 inch pieces. Pack raw into containers without sugar.

If desired, pack in a sugar syrup. It takes one-half to two-thirds cup of syrup for each pint package of fruit. To make [illegible] cups of syrup, dissolve 3 cups sugar in 4 cups of cold or hot water. If you use hot water, [illegible] syrup cool, then pour over rhubarb in containers. Leave headspace. Seal and freeze.

Canned Rhubarb

Wash rhubarb and cut into ½ inch pieces. Add ½ cup sugar to each quart rhubarb and let stand to draw out juice. Bring to boiling.

In glass jars: Pack hot to ½ inch of top. Adjust lids. Process in boiling water bath (212 deg. F.) for ten minutes for either pint or quart jars.

In tin cans: Pack hot to top of cans. Exhaust to 170 deg. F. (about 10 minutes) and seal cans. Process in boiling water bath (212 deg. F.) for ten minutes.

Strawberries and rhubarb go together like coffee and cream. Both are available now, so make some jam.

Strawberry and Rhubarb Jam

Wash the strawberries, drain, and then remove the caps. Cut young tender rhubarb into inch pieces, taking care not to remove the skin.

For each pound of strawberries, use a pound of rhubarb. To each 2 pounds of the combined fruits, allow 1½ to 2 pounds of sugar. Cover the rhubarb with a part of the sugar and allow it to stand an hour or two to extract the juice. Crush the strawberries, mix with remaining sugar, and combine with the rhubarb. Heat slowly until the sugar is dissolved, stirring meanwhile. Continue the stirring while boiling 15 to 20 minutes or until the jam is somewhat thick. Pour into hot sterilized jars and seal.

Rhubarb Conserve

Select young, tender rhubarb, and wash, drain, and weigh it. To each pound of rhubarb allow:

2 pounds of sugar
1 orange
2 lemons
1 cup blanched almonds
¼ teaspoon salt

Without removing the skin, cut the rhubarb into small pieces. Remove the peel from the orange and the lemons, parboil it for 5 minutes in 1 cup of water, then drain. Discard the seeds from the orange and the lemons and chop the pulp and the parboiled skins fine. Chop fine the blanched almonds.

Combine all the ingredients except the almonds. Heat the mixture slowly until the sugar is dissolved. Boil rapidly, stirring constantly, until somewhat thick. Add the almonds, pour at once into hot sterilized jelly glasses or into glass jars and seal.

Use your rhubarb while it's in season. Here's a recipe for a pudding.

Rhubarb Tapioca

3-cups rhubarb, cut in small pieces
4 tablespoons tapioca
1½ cups hot water
1¼ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Add rhubarb and tapioca to water and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear. Add sugar and salt; stir until dissolved. Chill and add about ½ dozen sliced oranges.

Stroud Union Wins LVL Baseball Championship; Whitehall 6-1 Victim Of Unbeaten Mountaineers

WHITEHALL — The baseball championship of the Lehigh Valley League belongs to Stroud Union High School.

Coach Wilmont Smith's Mountaineers yesterday wrapped up their first league title since 1951 when Freddy Frantz hurled a three-hit, 5-1 triumph over the Zephyrs of Whitehall.

The victory was the 10th of the season overall for the undefeated Maroon which also completed an unblemished league mark with a 7-0 record.

But the Zephyrs were no breeze for Stroud Union. Whitehall held a 1-0 edge before the Mountaineers finally reached Eric Shafnisky for four runs in the top of the sixth. The winners added another tally in the seventh to complete their scoring.

Take Lead

The Zephyrs gained their lead in the bottom of the fourth when Dick Yost walked, stole second and scored on a single by Dave Schneck.

That's the way matters stood until the four-run explosion by the Mountaineers.

Glenn Bisbing started things off for Stroud Union in the sixth with a walk and advanced to second on Mike Thurston's sacrifice bunt. A double by Paul Albert and a triple by John Muller accounted for two runs. Les David followed with a walk and stole second, and an error by the shortstop on Ray Bago's grounder allowed Muller and David to romp home.

Score In Seventh

Singles by Frantz, Bisbing and Thurston loaded the bases in the seventh for the Mountaineers and Frantz tallied on Paul Albert's sac fly to deep center.

Frantz struck out nine batters and walked four in chalking up his sixth victory of the campaign. Shafnisky, who also went the route for the losers, whiffed four batters and walked three.

Bangor Clinches First-Place Tie

NAZARETH - - The Slaters of Bangor clinched a tie for first place in the Lehigh-Northampton League yesterday by blanking Nazareth behind the two-hit pitching of Joe Ponnett.

Bangor put together five of its eight hits in the sixth inning to break a scoreless deadlock and score all its runs.

Pete Speer led off the frame with a single and advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt by Pete Heard. After Jim Parsons popped out, Jimmy Dietz singled to left and Speer crossed the plate when the ball rolled through the legs of the leftfielder for a two-base error.

Lobb then lined a double to score Dietz and Ponnett's single put runners on first and third. Ackerman's single drove in Lobb, and a pinch-hit single by Dick Stiles scored Ponnett.

Nazareth hit only four balls out of the infield against Ponnett who struck out five and didn't issue a walk.

The victory provided the Slaters with an 8-1-1 record overall and placed them with a 7-0-1 mark in league competition.

Eastburg Slams Pen Argyl, 10-4

PEN ARGYL — The Cavaliers of East Stroudsburg combined 15 hits with Ray Gallagher's four-hit pitching to gain a 10-4 triumph over host Pen Argyl in a Lehigh - Northampton League battle yesterday.

Leading all the way, Eastburg jumped out in front by a 2-0 margin in the first inning and added five more in the top of the second for a 7-0 bulge before the Green Knights rallied with a three-run burst in the bottom of the second.

But the Cavaliers added single markers in the third, sixth and seventh rounds while Pen Argyl scored its only other run in the third as the visitors completed the rout.

Gallagher, who struck out two and issued three walks, banged out four hits in five trips to the plate, scoring three runs and batting across two others.

Bill Reese went 3-for-4 while Ron Spinner and Jim Litts each collected two hits in a winning cause. Spinner's two hits were responsible for four RBIs.

Dave Turtzo, who had pitched on two consecutive days earlier in the week, was rocked for six hits and seven runs. He was relieved in the second inning after failing to get a batter out.

Reds Score 6 In 3rd; Rout Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds shattered Larry Jackson's bid for a fifth straight pitching triumph with a six-run third inning Friday and went on to trounce the Chicago Cubs 10-5.

The Reds batted around in the third, collecting four singles, two doubles and a walk as they drove Jackson to cover. Jackson, who had won four in a row since losing a game April 19, yielded eight hits, including Frank Robinson's two-run homer, before he was chased.

Bob Purkey was the winning pitcher although he gave up bases-empty homers to Billy Williams in the third and Andre Rodgers in the sixth.

Williams' homer was his eighth of the season and Rodgers' his sixth.

Marshman, Jones Renew Race Duel

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A crowd big enough to fill four or five major football stadiums will scramble into the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Saturday to see a showdown between Bobby Marshman and Parnelli Jones in opening time trials for the 500-mile Memorial Day race.

Marshman, second - generation driver from Pottstown, Pa., and Jones, the track record holder and last year's race winner, have taken turns smashing the record unofficially.

In their last duel Friday, Jones, from Torrance, Calif., went out in his conventional front-engine Offenhauser and hiked the unofficial mark to 157.646 m.p.h. Marshman came right back and turned the first 158 m.p.h. lap in the history of the 54-year-old track, hitting 158.758 in his rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

String Of Records

With a prospect of near-ideal running weather for both men and engines—mild temperatures under partly cloudy skies a string of track records was virtually guaranteed.

A score of cars have made practice runs faster than the 151.443 m.p.h. qualifying record set last year by Jones. Jones went on to win the race, turning laps as fast as 151.541 in faster Ford V8. He has been practicing at speeds indicating he probably will qualify at well over 155.

Pole Favorite

The pole favorite, however, is the Lotus-Ford driven by Marshman. It is not a Lotus team car but belongs to Lindsey Hopkins, Miami real estate tycoon who has the new special racing engine on a rental deal.

Cars qualified Saturday will hold their positions in the 33-car line-up, regardless of later speeds in trials Sunday and the following weekend. Once the field is filled, however, the slowest car in the line-up can be eliminated by a faster qualifier.

Elementary Track Meet Set Today

STROUDSBURG — The second annual elementary track and field day will start today at Gordon Giffels Field at 1 p.m.

Eliminations were completed this week by boys and girls of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of Arlington, Ramsey, Morey, Hamilton and Clearview schools to determine the 45 finalists in the meet.

Awards consist of cups to all first-place winners, with ribbons awarded to second and third place finishers. Certificates were presented to all contestants.

Student teachers from East Stroudsburg State College who prepared the youngsters for the meet are Ron Matakitis (Arlington), Edward Neuman (Morey), Ronald Hayes (Hamilton), Georgiana Knorr (Clearview) and Herman Darmofol (Ramsey).

Supervising the affair is George Metropolous, supervisor of health and physical education at Stroud Union elementary school.

White Sox Retain Lead In 2-0 Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chicago White Sox protected their American League lead Friday night, blanking the Washington Senators 2-0 behind John Buzhardt's three-hitter.

The White Sox scored an unearned run off Claude Osteen in the third inning and added a run in the sixth on Floyd Robinson's double and Dave Nicholson's single.

Jim King overran Gerry McNertney's high fly to right field in the third inning and McNertney reached second on the two-base error.

Buzhardt sacrificed him to third, and McNertney scored on fly.

Mike Hershberger's sacrifice The Senators did not advance a runner past first base after the first inning.

Cards Slug Braves, 10-6

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals backed the fine relief pitching of Roger Craig with four home runs, including a grand slam by Julian Javier, and out-slugged the Milwaukee Braves 10-6 Friday night.

Consecutive homers by rookie Jeoff Long, with a man on, and Charley James in the seventh off losing pitcher Bobby Tiefenauer broke a 6-6 deadlock. James' homer was his second of the game.

Long's blast, his first in the major leagues, was a towering drive that bounced off the top of the scoreboard in left field, over 400 feet away. The first baseman started the game in place of Bill White, who was sidelined with a slight muscle strain. White had played in 284 straight games, longest streak in the National League.

Pius X Bows, 8 To 0

BLAIRSTOWN, N. J. — Jim Haney blanked visiting Pius X on two hits as Blairstown, N.J., crushed the Royals yesterday, 8-0.

The Jerseyites scored three times in the first inning and added three more in the second to lead from the very start. Blairstown pushed across two more runs in the fourth to seal the verdict.

Steve Douton crashed a home run for the winners while Ron Serpico smacked three hits.

Frank Godino and Bill Curcio were the only Pius X batters to get a hit.

A's, Rocky Trample Yanks, 11-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Diego Segui handcuffed the New York Yankees on nine hits Friday night and Rocky Colavito drove in two runs with his 10th homer and a single before he was injured in an 11-0 Kansas City victory.

Colavito was forced to leave the game with a painfully swollen right ankle in the sixth after he was hit by Dick Green's foul smash while leading off third base. He was taken to a hospital for precautionary X-rays.

Colavito's homer in the second was the only run in a tight battle between Segui and Ralph Terry until the A's broke loose with five runs in the sixth. They added five more in the eighth.

It was the worst Yankee defeat since Aug. 24, 1962 when they lost to Baltimore 14-2.

Mercury Dips; Dancer Rises

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP)—The temperature dipped to 45 degrees at Pimlico Friday and there was joy in barn a where Kentucky Derby winner Northern Dancer awaits Saturday's 88th running of the Preakness —the race that could give him two legs on the coveted Triple crown.

"This is his kind of weather," said trainer Horatio Luro shortly before giving E.P. Taylor's Canadian-owned ace a three-eighths of a mile blow-out.

Full Of Vim

The dazzling Dancer, who will again be ridden by Bill Hartack, was full of vim as he pranced onto the track and then reeled off the three furlongs in 35 4-5. He galloped out the half-mile in 48 and 3-5.

That was the colt's final prep for Saturday's 1 3-16-mile race against five other 3-year-old thoroughbreds.

The weatherman said the thermometer would drop again Friday night before climbing into the 70s for the big event scheduled to start at 4:45 p.m. EST.

Overcast Skies

Although skies were overcast Friday, there was no rain in sight. That sets up a fast track for the test of speed and stamina before a capacity crowd of some 30,000 and a national television audience. CBS will televise and broadcast the race from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

Hill Rise, 7-5 choice to square matters with Northern Dancer after being beaten by a neck in the Derby, also was on the track for his final blow-out. The big California comet from El Peco Ranch toured a leisurely first quarter in 26 3-5 and went three-eighths in 40 flat.

Smallest Horse

Roman Brother, smallest horse in the field, and carrying the hopes of Harbor View Farm, completed his training with a half-mile blow-out of 48 4-5. He worked the first quarter in 24 2-5 and the three-eighths in 36 3-5.

The other three—Quadrangle, from Rokeby Stable; Rex Ellsworth's The Scoundrel and Harriet N. Ball's Big Pete— each galloped once around the mile track.

Clay Set For Tour Of Africa

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius "Call me Muhammad Ali") Clay and his six-man palace guard prepared to take off by air Friday night for a tour of Africa and the Middle East.

The first stop is Accra, Ghana, the second is Nigeria. Travel plans are indefinite after that except that the trip will be climaxed by a visit to the Holy City of Mecca.

"I got to walk around the Black Stone seven times—whatever that means," said Clay, most famous of the Black Muslims.

No Gloves

The champion will take along a half-dozen suitcases, containing his best silks and mohairs in an Ivy League cut—but no boxing gloves.

"How can you shake hands with boxing gloves?" asked Omar Bey, Cassius' bodyguard, traveling companion and chief spokesman.

"Muhammad Ali is taking this trip to meet all his millions of friends and admirers in and out of the Islam world. As far as I know, he's not going to do any fighting, not even exhibitions."

Bey, a childhood friend of Clay's from Louisville, described himself as the man who sees to it that "nothing bad happens to Muhammad Ali."

He said others in the party included Cassius' brother, Rudolph Valentino Clay, whose Islamic name is Raha Man Ali; Omar Karriem, business manager; Herbert Muhammad, Friend; Charles Howard, friend, and Howard Bingham, the champ's personal photographer.

"I can't say what all of us do," Bey said. "Just call us traveling companions."

Saddle Club To Sponsor Horse Show

SAYLORSBURG — The White Birch Saddle Club will sponsor its annual spring horse show June 14 at 10 a.m. at the club grounds a mile-and-a-half east of the Saylorsburg exit.

Main attraction of the affair will be a 200-yard dash.

The program includes a halter class, ride a buck, rescue race, junior Western horsemanship, clover leaf barrel race, lead line, break your gait and out, Western Reining and pony driving.

Also, pole bending, Western trail class, ribbon race, Western pleasure, pony express, new musical chair, novice class and club class.

Bears Win, 18-3

BRODHEADSVILLE — Kenny Bowman struck out 16 batters and his mates unleashed a 16-hit assault as Pleasant Valley walloped Pocono Catholic in a Poconount League contest yesterday, 18-3.

Rick Everett held the biggest bat of the day, slamming a homer, triple and double in a 3-for-4 performance which saw him score three runs and bat across five others. Del Knecht and Roger Borger also swatted three hits apiece for the Bears.

Bob Dorshimer, Lambert Murphy and Skip Nicholas each hit safely twice for the winners. Murphy and Knecht also contributed three RBIs.

The victory was the second in six outings for the Bears who have been held to one tie.

Pleasant Valley led all the way, scoring in each of the first five innings, capped by an eight-run fifth.

Pocono Catholic reached Bowman for only four hits — all singles.

Al Dark Says He Couldn't Hit .300 Now

HOUSTON (AP)—Alvin Dark says he would hate to go into baseball now and try to hit .300.

"I know baseball is better now than it was 15 years ago," the manager of the San Francisco Giants says.

"When I started playing, if you went to town for three days you knew you were going to get one lamb. You knew you were going to bat against one guy who you could get two or three hits off of—and if you had a real good day you could get four."

Freddy Frantz Selected Area Brite Star Athlete

STROUDSBURG — Freddy Frantz, 17-year-old Stroud Union senior who hopes to make baseball a career, is the 24th winner of the Brite Star of the week award.

He was selected among the top athletes in the Pocono-Slate Belt area for last week's two-hit pitching performance against Northampton, the defending champion of the Lehigh Valley League.

The win was Freddy's fifth of the season against no setbacks as the Mountaineers remained undefeated while handing the Konkrete Kids their first defeat after 23 consecutive wins.

First Loss

His mound opponent, Art Cinamella, suffered his first loss in three years of varsity competition.

Freddy hurled a no-hitter over the first six innings while being touched for an unearned run in the third frame as Stroud Union won the pitcher's duel, 2-1. Glenn Bisbing's tremendous home run which knotted the count was the only earned run of the game.

The only hits Frantz yielded to Northampton came in the seventh inning when he was touched for a pair of bloop singles.

3-Letter Winner

Freddy is a winner of four varsity letters in football and baseball. In football, he played halfback his first two seasons and quarterbacked the Mountaineers in his final two campaigns.

He launched his baseball career back in Little League where he played practically every position in five years. He later played three years of Babe Ruth League ball and last summer alternated as a pitcher-outfielder in American Legion baseball.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Frantz of 1801 W. Main St., Stroudsburg, Freddy plans to enter East Stroudsburg State College next fall, majoring in health and physical education.

Ex-Pitching Ace

'The Thin One' Now Fat Hitter

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP) —El Flaco—The Thin One—is playing fine ball for the Leon Broncos of the Class A Central League. He's the leading home run hitter in organized Mexican baseball.

That he is a center fielder should be something of a surprise to El Flaco's American fans who admired his baseball prowess but expected him to be a pitching star.

Back in 1957 El Flaco was known to Little League fans by his proper name, Angel Macias. He was 12 years old then, and he pitched the only perfect game in Little League World Series history, at Williamsport, Pa., as Monterrey won the championship.

Now he's a 19-year-old 160-pound switch-hitter who slammed 29 homers in his first 50 games this year. His team is riding at the top of the league, and Macias stands a good chance of making the big leagues in the United States.

At least that's the opinion of Cesar L. Faz, a scout for the Los Angeles Angels and the man who taught Macias the game.

Faz says he plans to bring El Flaco up slowly. "He is doing pretty well at Leon," Faz says, "but our head scout wants to keep him there through this season instead of bringing him up to Class AA.

Harrison Still Plays Easy After 35-Year Golf Tour

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the old Arkansas Traveler, figures he must have played in more golf tournaments than any man.

Harrison, 54, is playing as good golf as ever — "maybe not quite as good" — and estimates he has been in 1,000 tournaments and won a quarter of a million dollars.

The guy must have traveled more than a million miles to do it.

"My first tournament on the tour was in 1930 — the St. Louis Open," Dutch was saying after he picked up $1,450 for an eighth place tie in the Texas Open, a tournament he won twice.

50 Cigarettes

"St. Louis was the first tournament offering $10,000 and they were giving 50 cigarettes for a birdie."

Harrison shot 298 and finished out of the money.

He became a tour regular in 1935 but has competed every year since turning pro in 1930.

So he has played the tour 35 years — the most any golfer ever can claim.

Even while in the Army in 1941-43, Harrison played the tour. "I won more tournaments while in the Army than when I was out," he recalls.

23 Tournaments

Harrison has won 23 tournaments officially. "I don't know how many tournaments that were not PGA sponsored that I have won," he adds.

He got his first golf as a caddie in 1926 and worked for some of the greatest names but the man he remembers most was a professional named H. C. Hackbarth of Little Rock.

"He taught me how to play golf and I am still following his teachings today," says Harrison. "He told me you had to be relaxed and to play easy, not charge it. I always have played that way."

Snead Greatest

Perhaps that's why Harrison thinks Sam Snead is the greatest golfer that ever lived.

"He plays so easy while golfers like Ben Hogan had to work so hard for it," observes Harrison. "Then, look at his record — he has won 114 tournaments."

Harrison won't go along with the popular contention that present day golfers are better than those of yesterday, such as Hagen, Sarazen, and Jones.

More Of Everything

"They were just as good as present day golfers; there are just more good players now. But why shouldn't there be with better equipment, better courses and more money to win?"

Harrison was Vardon trophy winner in 1954 with a 70.41 stroke average. He played on three Ryder Cup teams.

Harrison becomes the club pro at Forest Hills Golf and Country Club at St. Louis this fall. But he'll still play on the tour at least part of the time. He doesn't want to snap his record of following the sun for 35 years.

Weather: Cool; Little Rain

Eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey southeastern New York —Temperatures are expected to average two to seven degrees below normal in southeastern New York but near normal in the rest of the area. Mild Saturday, cooler Sunday and Monday, then become warmer. Precipitation may total from one quarter to one-half inch with a period of scattered showers Saturday night or early Sunday.

Elephant No Target

SALISBURY, South Rhodesia (AP) — Southern Rhodesia's government sees no point in point in killing an elephant to wipe out a tsetse fly. The fly carries sleeping sickness and many African animals carry the fly, the elephant often carrying it a long way. Rangers wanted to shoot game to control the flies but the minister of Agriculture instead suggested establishing game- and cattle-free corridors.

New Date Set To Honor Crowe

STROUDSBURG — J. L. Cohen, president of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday that a chamber dinner honoring Montgomery F. Crowe has been postponed from Tuesday to Sept. 21.

The change of plans was made because Crowe, president of the chamber's industrial development agency, Pocono Mountain Industries, will be honored May 25 by the East Stroudsburg Exchange Club.

The Exchange Club announced yesterday that Crowe was the winner of its annual Golden Deeds Award.

Summer In Spotlight At Camelback Today

TANNERSVILLE — Camelback Ski Area becomes a summer attraction today when its 2,900 - foot double chair lift starts hauling tourists up for the Big Pocono Mountain view instead of for a ride down on skis.

Passengers may ride up and down.

At the bottom, near the base lodge picnic and barbeque tables with climbing and play equipment for children will be available, according to Ken Nicoll, resident manager.

He said a nine hold chip and putt golf course has been laid out and seeded and should be ready at the end of June.

Camelback recently announced plans for a $400,000 expansion of the $750,000 project now in its first year of operation.

The year-round attraction employed over 90 people during the winter and now has 25 on its staff.

Golden New Portland Mayor

PORTLAND — Billy Golden, former Portland councilman, was installed as Portland's Mayor this week.

In other action Frank Stoddard was installed as councilman at the Borough council meeting in Town Hall. Stoddard replaces Golden. Will Schwar, Portland Justice of the Peace, conducted the installation ceremonies. Dr. John Wildrick, president, presided.

The council also approved a move to rebuild the road shoulders along Delaware Ave. subject to approval from the state department of highways.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Saturday, May 16, 1964

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — Some plans may be changed whether you like it or not. So? Be composed and patient, for you may well make a good profit by the change. Control emotions, aggressiveness.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus) — Venus now stimulates initiative, creativity; also helps you to handle tedious tasks in a brighter spirit. Direct your talents astutely.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini) — The joyous mood is just as important in everyday work as it is in pleasures, special interests — more so. Steer your course without fretting or rushing.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — If you were sensibly careful in the early part of the week, you will be pleased at most turns of events this week-end. Put a little extra grit and gumption into what you would put across today.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo) — A pound of fury with only an ounce of control could send this day clear off course. No excuses to yourself. You've a good head, use it — and help others stay on course, too.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo) — With little planetary help, your day will require considerable thinking, reviewing. Then deliberate action and following through tactics for full success.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra) — You may have a tendency now toward discontent, irritability with slow returns or with persons who do not understand you. Recognize this possibility and determine to control such feelings.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) — You often we think certain little things do not matter if taken care of "later." This may be today's big mistake. Control emotions, aggressiveness.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius) — You may have a heavy or complex program. However, bend to your chores with unobtrusive but solid determination. Back what you should stand for, but avoid being sharp with others.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn) — Polish up, trim where it is pertinent to do so, and be systematic in all things. A grand day for a spirited, enterprising Capricornian.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius) — Of course you need cooperation, and a certain amount AND competition to inspire you. And love. But you must give before you get these things. This will be especially important today.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces) — Do not allow a desire for pleasure and comfort cause you to neglect duties important to your future. Be tactful in making requests, not demanding.

YOU BORN TODAY are capable in a variety of ways and can build a business success in any one of many fields; could even make a hobby highly remunerative. You are alert in seizing opportunities, in making efforts to advance. Remain so; do not lapse into lethargy. You are endowed with a remarkably retentive memory. Many musicians, educators, writers, and mathematicians have been Taurus born. Birth date of: Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State under U.S. President A. Lincoln.

Take Steps To Insure Safety In Family Pool

Here are some safety tips for the pool owner. Post them in the area and see that family and guests follow them.

Make sure that an adult is always present whenever children get "in the swim." Let it be known that neighborhood youngsters will not be permitted use of pool unless accompanied by an adult.

Keep swimmers out of the pool for at least an hour after eating.

Erect a high fence around the pool and keep the gate locked whenever the pool is not in use. Have a life preserver handy at all times.

If you plan night swimming, provide electric lights in the pool area.

When swim season ends, cover your pool with a plastic or canvas top strong enough to support anyone who might fall or step onto it. If you remove the cover for ice skating, see that's it's replaced when the weather turns warmer.

George "Doc" Abraham's popular column, "The Green Thumb" will now be published in this section every Saturday morning.

The Green Thumb

By George Abraham

CHERY NOTES: When a cherry tree has a lot of blossoms and no fruit what happened? Usually, t's due to poor weather at pollinating time, or it might be due to late spring frosts killing the buds. Only a few fruit means imperfect pollination. All sour cherries are self - fruitful; that is, they need no other nearby rooster tree. But all sweet cherries are self - unfruitful. This means they will not set fruit with their own pollen and need the benefit of a close-by rooster tree. Even then, Napoleon, Bing, Lambert, Emperor Francis and one or two others will not cross - pollinate with each other, and you have to have a third rooster tree nearby (such as Windsor, Black Tartarian or Giant). If your cherry tree has only a few large fruits on, or none at all, you might eliminate the problem by introducing a pollinator nearby. A sour cherry bears 3 or 4 years after planting, whereas a sweet cherry 1 to 5 or 6 years.

You can't count on a sweet or a sour cherry tree to pollinate one another because they blossom at different times. If they bloomed together, they'd cross - pollinate.

FREE: Would you like a dandy, illustrated (in color) bulletin on new dessert recipes with Red Cherries? The National Red Cherry Institute has kindly consented to let me send each reader of this newspaper a copy of this excellent folder. This organization deserves great credit for making this available, and if you'd like a free copy, send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, and ask for Dessert Recipes with Red Cherries. When you see the information inside this booklet, you'll be glad you sent for it. Only one per reader, please!

MUGHO PINES: If yours has small specks on them, it means trouble! It's the pine scale, a close relative to the scale which bothers Junipers, Euonymous and other evergreens. These pests suck the sap, causing the leaves to turn yellow. Control: use a 2 per cent summer oil (found in garden centers), and drench the foliage to kill the young crawlers. Or you can spray with malathion once every 2 or 3 weeks, during the summer months.

By the way, you can trim your Mugho pines when the "candles" (soft growth) are pretty well out. Take a pair of hedge shears and shape them back to the desired height.

TOMATOES: Flea beetles can riddle the foliage of your young tomato plants if you don't take a minute to dust them. Some gardeners have good luck using wood ashes, others use lime. One tells us he dusts his leaves with soot. Any good garden dust will do the trick, and it's a good idea to apply a little at the base of each plant, to keep out the cutworm. This villain works during the night and can cut a plant down in just a jiffy. You can tell damage from cutworms — plants are cut off at soil level. Rabbits will ruin plants, but you you can tell their work by the sharp slant or angle they make on the stalk 2 or 3 inches above the soil surface. A low fence around the green is your best protection against rabbits.

DUMB CANE: This handsome foliage plant is apt to grow taller than you want it to. Best way to keep it at the proper height is to cut the tip out, otherwise it'll reach the ceiling. The tip can be rooted in water to form a brand new plant. Yellowing of lower leaves is due to dry soil, too much water, or poor drainage. When a leaf starts to turn yellow, cut it off close to the stalk and a new leaf will eventually come out. During the summer, Dumb Cane or Dieffenbachia, often drips water from the edges of the leaves. This is knows as guttation and is harmless to the plant, although a plant can guttate enough to ruin your floor if a pan is not placed to catch the water. And don't forget the juices in the leaves and stem are poisonous to humans. If you happen to bite into a leaf it'll cause paralysis of the tongue and vocal chords. At one time the juice was used to punish Jamaican slaves.

HYDRANGEAS: Are these really worth nursing along for another year's show? Yes, but if you live in an area where winters kill the buds, don't expect too much of a show outside. If you want to make them flower, grow them outdoors during the summer, dig up the plant and bring indoors and store in a cool cellar for 2 or 3 months. Then pot the plant up, bring into a warm, bright room and it will bloom. If yours doesn't bloom outdoors (and thousands of gardeners tell me theirs don't) then blame it on the weather which freezes the buds.

MORNING GLORIES: If you like a good screen, one that's fast growing, try the morning glories. You can get them in a red, white and blue collection. Pearly Gates is white. Heavenly Blue is blue and Wedding Bells is a rosey red. Mix the seed together and plant. A chicken wire screen is ideal for them to climb on, and in a short time the vines will hide unsightly spots, such as the place where you hide the garbage can.

PROBLEM SOILS: If you have a light sandy soil, any humus such as peatmoss, compost, sawdust, and any organic matter will help it. These materials are equally beneficial to heavy soils that need opening up. There's no danger in using too much of any of these materials.

Where sawdust is used, add some complete plant food and this will prevent a temporary shortage of nitrogen. There's no truth to the idea that sawdust is harmful to your soil, if you use it right. Use it as a mulch, on a compost pile, or mixed with a soil and you'll find it helpful.

Question Box

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: D. E. of Stroudsburg: "I've always been able to raise lovely, large sweet Spanish onions in the garden, but now I can't keep them through the winter. They rot the moment I bring them in, after drying. Is it something that I'm doing wrong during the growing season?"

Yes, the loss is due to a disease known as "purple blotch' (Alternaria) a fungus quite serious with Sweet Spanish. The secret is to spray the tops to keep the bulbs healthy. Manzate is a control, and an insecticide such as malathion or Sevin should also be added to control thrips which spread the disease. Spray at weekly intervals. If you keep your onions healthy during the season, you'll have much better success in storing them.

Incidentally, I'd like to repeat what I said about the big red hamburger onions you buy in stores. These come from Italy, grown at the base of Mount Vesuvius. They grow them better over there than we can. If we grow them here, you get a hotter onion because our soils lack something.

I mentioned a red hamburger onion you could try (Burgundy) but never said it was superior to Italian grown onions, nor did I say it was better than our large white hamburger onions. I'm glad many of you have decided to try Early Harvest, a hybrid, as mild and sweet as any onion I know. It does not keep well in storage. Sweet Spanish is the best keeper for us.

C. S. of Scot Run: "I have a grape vine that looks very healthy, but doesn't bear good fruit. Every year it comes loaded with blooms, then tiny fruit, and finally the stems turn black and the buds or berries all drop off. What's the remedy?"

Sounds like black rot disease, a fungus which attacks leaves, fruit, young canes, stems and blooms. CONTROL: Spray after blooming period, using Bordeaux Mixture (garden stores have it). Be sure to spray after the berries have formed and are the size of small shot. This is good for Downy Mildew, Powdery mildew and black rot as well.

E. R. of Stroudsburg: "I have an old fashioned Pansy geranium which hasn't bloomed in 3 years. When I bought it the plant was full of buds. What can be done to get it to bloom. It's a tall plant now."

I'd try to root new cuttings from the tender young tips. This item is slow to root, and may take weeks in plain tap water or sand. Indoors they make a poor show unless you give them full light and a cool window. High temperatures cause petals to drop and prevents flowers from forming. Another name for the Pansy geranium is Martha Washington geranium. You can also start new plants from seed.

C. F. of E. Stroudsburg: "Can you tell me the name of a flower I used to see in lawns over 40 years ago? They used to fascinate me, blossoming all over a lawn, even though it was kept mowed. I used to see them in the front yards of neat little houses in "Dutch Town". No one has them now."

No doubt you're talking about European Daily (bellis perennis), a cute little plant which often invades lawns, standing partial shade or sun. I wouldn't suggest planting these in for a lawn, but it is useful as an edging or border plant. This is a perennial and you can order seed from various seed houses, but watch out for it may escape and creep all over your lawn.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

'62 OLDSMOBILE
"Starfire"
2-DOOR HARDTOP
Here is sheer beauty in motion. An impressive car with eye-catching lines, power and pride of ownership. It's styled in attractive beige with a moroccan vinyl leather interior and whitewall tires. Its action look is accentuated by sporty bucket seats, 4-on-the-floor Hyramatic shift and center console. Power extras include power brakes and steering, electric windows and seat. This car was sold new by our dealership, has had only one owner and been driven only 21,000 actual miles.
Test drive this Starfire once . . . and it will be your car!

CONCERT ARTISTS — Appearing in the East Stroudsburg's version of "Hi Neighbor" are Joanne Hamlen at the piano; and (l-r) David Cortright, Amy Wunder, Gary Thompson, and Art Thompson.

Art Group's Banquet Tuesday

SAYLORSBURG — The Pocono Mountains Art Group held its annual banquet at the Saylorsburg Lake House Tuesday.

Frank Fitzgerald, president, gave the invocation. He announced there would be one more meeting at Stroud Union High School's art room May 25.

The first outdoor meeting of the summer will be held June 8, at Fitzgerald's antique shop in Snydersville.

At the annual banquet, David Burris played the organ, David Katz did a comedy and dance routine, and a barber shop quartet sang.

Eastburg's Concert Hi Neighbor Tonight

EAST STROUDSBURG — Tonight "Hi Neighbor" will be presented at 8:00 by the choruses of the East Stroudsburg High School.

Miss Nancy Joy Koch, vocal director, has packed the concert full of surprises. A special guest soloist will compliment the repertoire of the chorus. Also featured are solos by Pamela Cyphers and Gary Thompson.

An old fashioned boys quintet made up of Dave Cortright, Lee Pullan, Tom Seese, Jack Swineford and Art Thompson will sing the old favorites "Aura Lee" and "Shenandoah."

Disappointed because she "Can't Get A Man With A Gun" Sallie Ferrebee challenges the talents of Joanne Hamlen in their hill-billy duet "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better."

Other selections to be featured by the Glee Club are: "Hi Neighbor," "Glorious Everlasting," "Awake The Trumpet's Lofty Sound," "Ride The Chariot," "Anthem For Spring," "Roots and Leaves," "The Dark Eyed Sailor," "My Funny Valentine," "Bye, Bye Blues," "All The Things You Are" and "The Days Of Wine And Roses."

Susan Fatzinger, student director will conduct "Sacred Head Now Wounded."

Choraliers will sing a medley of songs from "No Strings," as well as "Grant Thy Grace To Me., O God" and "Blue Velvet."

The ever popular Waring arrangement of "Where In The World But In America" will be sung by the Girls Chorus.

All in all, the chorus has planned a very relaxing and surprising evening for all who attended. Tickets are $.75 and may be purchased at the door.

St. Joan To Be Presented

NEWFOUNDLAND — Highlights of George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan" will be presented by the world-famous "The Bishop's Company" of Burbank, Calif., at 8 p.m. on Sunday, August 23, at the Southern Wayne High school building.

The appearance of the California group will be sponsored by the South Sterling Methodist Charge, including LaAnna, South Sterling and Hemlock Grove Churches, as a cultural and religious program.

The Rev. Denton Covert is minister of the charge.

There are 5,900 public campsites in the United States.

The average person blinks eyes 25 times a minute.

Democrats To Hear Hoffner

STROUDSBURG — Donald James, president of the Democratic Club of the Stroudsburgs, announced last night that the next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, May 19.

The meeting will take place at the East Stroudsburg office of the Monroe Security Bank and Trust Co., beginning at 8 p.m.

He also announced that Atty. Edward Hoffner of Stroudsburg would speak following the regular business meeting. Hoffner's topic will be the "Responsibility of the Individual in Politics".

James urged all club members to attend and take part in the discussion following the speaker. He also extended an invitation to other interested individuals.

Two Initiated At Penn State

UNIVERSITY PARK — Two Monroe County men are among 108 initiates into the Penn State chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshmen men's honor society.

The two are James V. Maugeri of 960 Drake Lane, Stroudsburg, and Charles L. Munch, Tannersville.

There was one honorary initiate — Ben Euwema, dean of the College of Liberal Arts, who was speaker at the banquet following initiation ceremonies.

PM School Board Approves Palumbo Attending School

SWIFTWATER — Neil Palumbo, assistant high school principal at Pocono Mountain, has been granted permission by the joint school committee to attend a 10-week summer school session.

After lengthy debate at a meeting this week, the joint committee voted, 6-2, to allow Palumbo to attend the University of Oklahoma to earn credits toward his doctorate in administration.

Voting no were Howard Hartshorn of Jackson Township and Horace Raish of Pocono Township.

The debate centered around Palumbo's leaving for Oklahoma before school closes. It was indicated this would place a hardship on the school's other administrators.

Palumbo assured the committee most of his work would be done before he left and he would return in time to do his necessary work in preparation of school's opening in September.

In other action the board:

—Awarded the following painting contracts at elementary centers: Gerald Possinger, Barrett, $3,108; R.M. Frantz, Tobyhanna, $481; R. M. Frantz, Coolbaugh, $218, and Donald Rowe, Pocono, $481.

—Awarded a $4,451 electrical contract to Johnson Electric for work at the four elementary centers.

—Awarded to D.J. Katz and Sons a $750 plumbing contract at Barrett.

—Received a report indicating samples drinking water at all schools was satisfactory.

—Awarded a $13,232 contract to William F. Diebert of Allentown for two 72-passanger school buses.

Ranger Shot Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency ordered another postponement in the Ranger moon-photography launch program Wednesday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the launch of the seventh Ranger craft, Ranger B, had been deferred from a hoped-for late June date to sometime in the July-September period. A more definite date will be determined later.

Cuba Buys Heifers

GUELPH, Ont. (AP)—Following up on Fidel Castro's call to make beef as important to Cuba as sugar, the island's government has purchased 200 Ontario-bred heifers as a nucleus for a breed improvement program. The Canadian Guernsey Breeders Assn. announced the first of the cattle were shipped to Cuba on May 9.

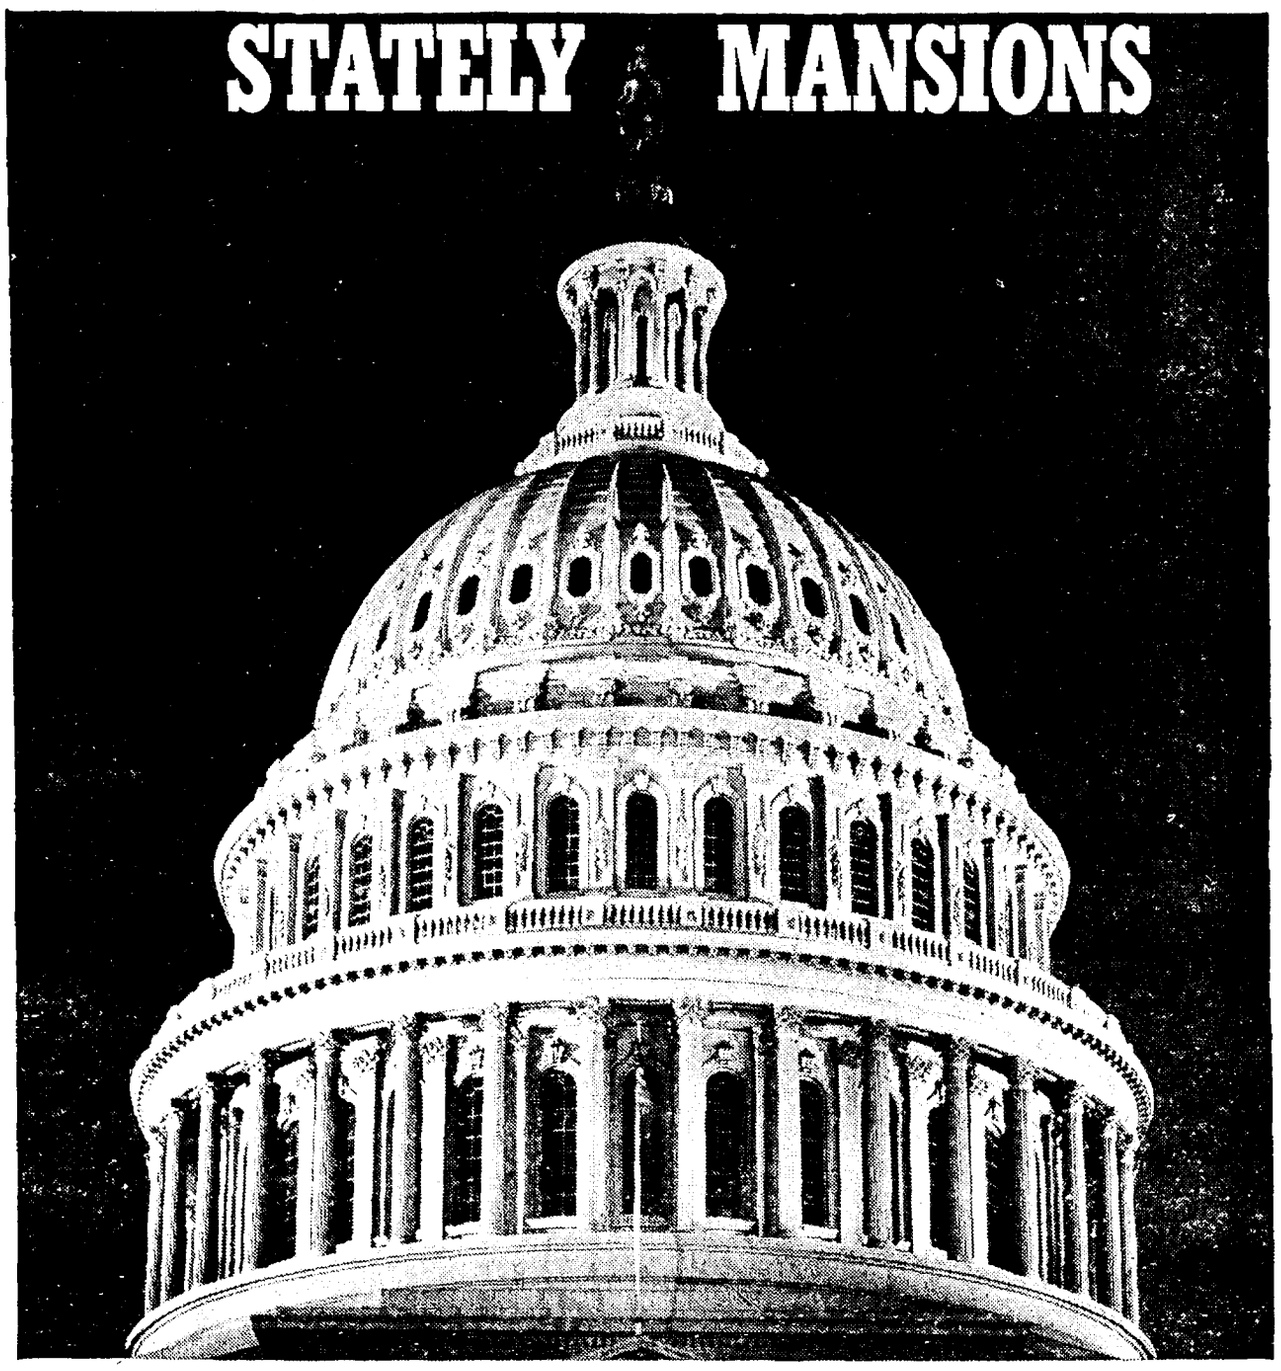
STATELY MANSIONS



Recognize this building? Whether you live in Yuma or Butte — or Concord or Dallas you know that this is the dome of the Capitol in Washington. And what is more, you would be able to identify the Eiffel Tower or the Taj Mahal without a second glance. All of us are attracted to and enticed by faraway places. And yet we tend to ignore and take for granted things and places of interest and beauty at our very "back door."

Our lives, too, have lofty domes and towers that we may be unaware of. We develop our physical bodies, our personalities, our talents, and we think we've done everything necessary for happy living. Yet it is a fact that unless the higher, spiritual life of man is developed also, lasting happiness is impossible. And when we live entirely on the materialistic level, we are only half alive.

Open your eyes and look to the Light. Discover your full potential by joining and supporting the church of your choice.
